Georgia Bowl Leaders

Georgia will be making its 51st appearance in a bowl game when it faces Penn State in the TaxSlayer Bowl. Bryan McClendon will serve as interim head coach for the Bulldogs in the bowl game. This season, McClendon served as an assistant head coach in charge of wide receivers, as well as passing game coordinator. McClendon is in his seventh season coaching for Georgia after he suited up for the Bulldogs as a receiver from 2002-05. Kirby Smart, who was the Alabama defensive coordinator, was named Georgia's new head coach on Dec. 6. He will join the Bulldogs full-time after the Crimson Tide's season is complete.

The Bulldogs sport a bowl record of 28-19-3, and the 28 wins is tied for third most nationally (Penn State, Oklahoma) while the 51 appearances ranks fourth. Also, Georgia will be playing in a bowl game for a school record 19th consecutive season and that is the third longest active streak, trailing only Florida State (34) and Virginia Tech (23).

Last season in the Belk Bowl, then #13 Georgia topped #20 Louisville 37-14 in Charlotte, N.C. This year, the Bulldogs will take on Penn State at the Taxslayer Bowl for only the second time in school history. In a national championship battle at the 1983 Sugar Bowl between the nation's two top-ranked teams, the second-ranked Nittany Lions held off top-ranked Georgia 27-23 to spoil the Bulldogs' chance at a second national title in three years and another perfect season.

Bowl History In Jacksonville

Georgia is 2-1-1 in previous trips to Jacksonville for the Taxslayer or Gator bowls. The Bulldogs' last appearance came on Jan. 1, 2014, and they dropped a 24-19 decision to Nebraska to finish the season 8-5 under Mark Richt. Georgia's other appearances in Jacksonville came in 1989 in legendary coach Vince Dooley's final game. The 19th-ranked Bulldogs defeated Michigan State 34-27 to finish the season 9-3. Georgia's first time at the Gator Bowl came on Jan. 1, 1948, and the Bulldogs tied Maryland 20-20 to conclude the campaign 7-4-1 under Wallace Butts. On Dec. 31, 1971, sixth-ranked Georgia edged unranked North Carolina 7-3 to cap an 11-1 season under Dooley.

In school history, Georgia is 43-40-1 in Jacksonville. Senior starters John (OT) and Nathan (SN) Theus are Jacksonville natives and will serve as captains in their last collegiate game.

The Bulldogs first played SEC rival Florida in Jacksonville in 1915 and recorded a 39-0 shutout. Since 1933, the Bulldogs annually play the Gators in Jacksonville (only exceptions came in 1994-95 when the game moved on each campus due to renovations to the Gator Bowl).

Seniors Aim For 40th Career Win

The Bulldog senior class of 2015 enters the Taxslayer Bowl with a 39-13 overall record. The seniors will be looking to win 10 games in a season for a third time in their career. They will be aiming to become the 22nd team in school history to reach double-digit wins in a season.

Offensively, Georgia is led by senior receiver Malcolm Mitchell, who has 53 catches for 751 yards and four touchdowns. In his career he ranks third in school history with 169 receptions and is seventh in receiving yards with 2,236. In the backfield, sophomore Sony Michel became the 13th Bulldog to rush for at least 1,000 yards (1,076 yds./199 att.) in a season during the win over Georgia Tech on Nov. 28. Junior Greyson Lambert directs the offense and has a 64.4 completion percentage and is on pace to set the school record for fewest interceptions in a season with just two in 236 attempts.

Defensively, the Bulldogs are led by senior ILB Jake Ganus, who has a team-high 96 tackles, while sophomore DB Dominick Sanders has five interceptions for a school record 205 return yards. Also, junior OLB Leonard Floyd, a Butkus Award finalist, and senior OLB Jordan Jenkins are projected as premium picks in the NFL Draft. Floyd ranks second on the team in tackles with 68 and a team-high 4.5 sacks. They share the team lead with 10.5 TFLs and Jenkins is fourth on the squad with 56 stops.

NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Senior FLK Malcolm Mitchell was named to the 2015 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team and more recently won the Haier Achievement Award. Mitchell, a 6-1, 195-pound native of Valdosta, Ga., was one of 11 players from the NCAA FBS selected based on their commitment to community service. Georgia leads the nation in Allstate AFCA Good Works team honorees with 16 (10 in the Mark Richt era) since the award's inception in 1992.

Also, senior ILB Jake Ganus was named a semifinalist for the William V. Campbell Trophy. In addition, junior OLB Leonard Floyd was one of five finalists for the Butkus Award, which is given annually to the nation's top collegiate linebacker.

Junior QB Greyson Lambert was named the SEC Co-Offensive Player of the Week and one of the Manning Award Stars of the Week following his performance in the 52-20 win over South Carolina. Lambert went 24-for-25 (an SEC and NCAA record 96 percent) for a career-high 330 yards and three touchdowns, which matched his career high. He completed 20 passes in a row to end the contest, which topped a Bulldog record of 19 set by Mike Bobo at the 1998 Outback Bowl. Lambert connected with nine different receivers in his third game with Georgia after transferring from Virginia.

OVERALL: 9-3 (HOME: 6-1; ROAD: 3-1; NEUTRAL: 0-1) SEC: 5-3 (HOME: 3-1; ROAD: 2-1; NEUTRAL: 0-1)

#9 Georgia 51, ULM 14

Sept. 5, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens

ATHENS ---- Quarterback Greyson Lambert threw two touchdown passes in his UGA debut and the Bulldog running backs piled up 243 yards on the ground as Georgia defeated ULM, 51-14, in front of a Sanford Stadium capacity crowd of 92,746 and a SEC Network television audience.

The 2015 season opener was a shortened contest. The game officially ended with 9:54 remaining in the fourth quarter because of lightning reported near the stadium.

The capacity crowd -- which also sat through an hour-long rain delay after halftime -- watched Lambert complete 8-of-12 passes for 141 yards, two TDs and no interceptions in his first start as a Georgia Bulldog.

The defense held the Warhawks to 251 total yards. Georgia defensive back Aaron Davis notched the team's only takeaway during the contest, intercepting a fade pass thrown by ULM in the first quarter. The Bulldogs were led by safety Quincy Mauger and linebacker Leonard Floyd, who both finished the contest with eight tackles.

After forcing a three and out on the Warhawks' first drive, the Bulldogs had great field position on the ULM 21-yard line. Two Chubb carries later and Georgia had its first lead of the game at 7-0.

On the ensuing possession, Davis picked off ULM QB Garrett Smith's fade pass down the left sideline, returning the ball to the 15-yard line. The Bulldogs wasted no time, putting six more points on the board when Lambert hit tight-end Jeb Blazevich in the endzone for a diving catch.

The Bulldogs then put up 21 points in the second quarter thanks to a trio of touchdowns by Georgia tailbacks. Keith Marshall, who missed most of 2014 due to an injury, recorded two scores on the day -- his first coming on a 3-yard run in the second quarter. Chubb added a 23-yard TD run before Michel caught a 31-yard TD pass from Ramsey to take the Bulldogs into the half with a 35-7 lead.

Georgia added nine points to its lead in the third quarter thanks to a blocked punt by D'Andre Walker that forced a ULM safety. Malcolm Mitchell followed with a 28-yard TD reception from Lambert.

The Bulldogs added a score in the fourth when Marshall rushed in for his second TD of the game, this time a 2-yard run with 10:58 remaining in the fourth quarter to put the final score at 51-14 in the Bulldogs' favor.

Keith Marshall rushed for 73 yards and two touchdowns against the Warhawks.

• Georgia improved to 92-27-3 in season openers, including 12-3 under Mark Richt. The Bulldogs are now 57-11 against non-conference teams, including 40-2 at home under Richt. The game was halted twice due to lightning (the first delay lasted one hour), and on the second stoppage with 9:54 left in the contest, the game was declared a final.

• Georgia had three first-time starters vs. ULM. Two of the first-time starters were transfers in QB Greyson Lambert (Virginia) and senior ILB Jake Ganus (UAB). The third was true freshman DB Rico McGraw.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"I think this is the first time I've been involved in one that got terminated at this point. We had one delay, then another, and it could've gone all day and all night, so it was in the best interest of everyone to terminate it when we did."

#10 Georgia 31, Vanderbilt 14

Sept. 12, 2015 • Vanderbilt Stadium - Nashville, Tenn.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. ---- Georgia's defense and special teams put on a show in week two as both units scored touchdowns in the Bulldogs' 31-14 win over Vanderbilt in the team's first SEC game of the year.

Sophomore Isaiah McKenzie took a punt a career-best 77 yards to the house in the first quarter to get the scoring started, his third career punt return for a touchdown. Dominick Sanders intercepted a pass from Vanderbilt's Johnny McCrary late in the fourth quarter and returned it 88 yards, sealing a Georgia victory and producing the final score of 31-14 in the first conference battle for each team. Sanders' pick was one of three that the ballhawking Bulldogs pulled in on the day.

The defense, which surrendered only 105 rushing yards on 39 attempts and held Vanderbilt to 7-of-21 on third down, did not allow Vanderbilt to score a touchdown until late in the fourth quarter. Senior linebacker Jordan Jenkins turned in a dominant performance individually, totaling a career-high 11 tackles with 5.5 behind the line of scrimmage. Jenkins also got after the quarterback with a team-best five QB hurries.

Fittingly, it was the defense that finished off the game with Sanders' pick-six, as Vanderbilt had the ball deep in Georgia territory and trailed by 10 at the time.

The running game was also strong as Georgia ran up 281 yards on the ground against the Commodores and averaged more than 6 yards per carry in the contest. Sophomore backs Nick Chubb and Sony Michel combined for 245 yards on 31 carries, an average of 8 yards per carry. Chubb, who totaled 189 yards on 19 carries (9.9 ypc average) burst for a 68-yard gain on his second carry of the contest and Michel boasted a long of 31 yards in the game, a carry he took into the end zone to put the Bulldogs ahead 14-3 in the second quarter.

The passing game overcame a slow start to produce 141 yards on 25 attempts. Greyson Lambert finished the day 11-for-21 with 116 yards and rushed for a touchdown. For the second straight game, Brice Ramsey took a first-half series and went 2-for-4 for 25 yards through the air. The quarterbacks only took one sack as the offensive line had yet another strong showing.

Isaiah McKenzie's first-quarter punt return TD was the third of his young career.

• Sophomore Isaiah McKenzie had his first punt return for touchdown of the year, third in his career. It was a career-best 77 yards.
• Through two games, Georgia has tallied 17 points off four opponent turnovers, including 10 against Vanderbilt on three takeaways. UGA has yet to turn the ball over.
• Nick Chubb extended his 100-yard rushing streak to 10 games, only one behind the national leader (Toledo's Kareem Hunt, 11).
• Redshirt sophomore OLB Davin Bellamy and freshman TE Jackson Harris each earned their first career start in the contest.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"I felt like there were enough good things on offense, defense and special teams that we deserved to win. When bad things happen, we certainly could've lost it. To get out of a game like this with a victory and still be able to learn from it is going to be very valuable to us, and that'll be our goal."

#7 Georgia 52, South Carolina 20

Sept. 19, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens

ATHENS ---- Georgia's offense shined behind a historic night from quarterback Greyson Lambert in its 52-20 victory over rival South Carolina in front of a sellout crowd of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium and an ESPN national television audience.

The Bulldogs scored on their first six drives led by Lambert, who finished the contest going 24-for-25 through the air with 330-yards and three touchdowns. Sophomore running back Nick Chubb finished the game with 159 yards and two touchdowns, marking the 11th straight game that he finished a game with 100 yards or more rushing.

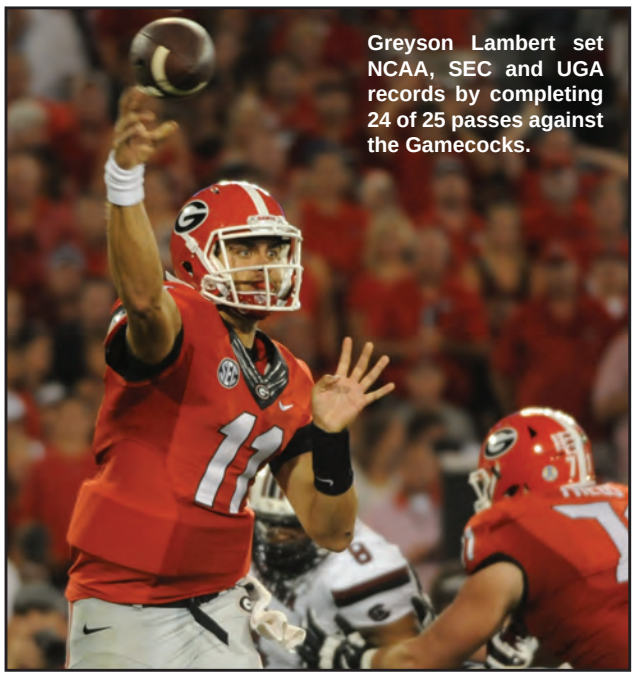
Georgia's defense forced South Carolina's offense off the field quickly on the first drive giving its offense the ball on the 12-yard line after a Gamecock punt. The Georgia offense drove the majority of the field before settling for a field goal and putting the first points of the game on the board.

South Carolina answered with a field goal of its own, but the ensuing Bulldog drive would prove to be the tale of the game as the Georgia offense drove the ball at will, going 85 yards in nine plays in 3:35. The drive was highlighted by a 20-yard toss from Lambert to tight end Jay Rome to the two-yard line. Chubb finished off the drive, putting Georgia up 10-3.

The majority of the first half was all Bulldogs, highlighted by a 21-yard touchdown run by Michel to put the Bulldogs up 17-3, and a five-yard touchdown reception from Mitchell. Mitchell's touchdown came after Georgia flawlessly executed the two-minute drill by going 78 yards in 1:53 to score a touchdown with 17 seconds remaining in the half.

The Bulldogs picked up right where they left off to start the second-half, scoring touchdowns on their next three drives. The first two came on 11-yard touchdown receptions by Michel. The final score of the third quarter was a seven-yard touchdown run by Chubb.

South Carolina scored first in the fourth quarter with a seven-yard touchdown run by back-up quarterback Lorenzo Nunez. Georgia answered the Gamecocks' score with a nine-play, 83-yard, 5:18 drive, capped off by a three yard Keith Marshall touchdown run.



Greyson Lambert set NCAA, SEC and UGA records by completing 24 of 25 passes against the Gamecocks.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"It was a great victory, no doubt. Anytime you win, it's a great thing. And to win in the East is super. So many years we've started out in a hole in the East hoping somebody would relent to give us an opportunity. We'll enjoy this one for awhile, but we'll get our hats back on straight and know that we have another opportunity next week to improve."

#7 Georgia 48, Southern 6

Sept. 26, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens

ATHENS ---- Head coach Mark Richt had a historic day with Georgia's 48-6 drubbing of Southern, achieving his 140th career win to tie him with Wallace Butts for second all-time at Georgia. Richt now trails only Vince Dooley and his 201 wins in the UGA record books.

Sophomore tailback Nick Chubb continued his historic streak as well, tallying his 12th consecutive 100-yard rushing game. Chubb finished with 131 yards on 15 carries and two touchdowns on the ground against an overmatched Southern team as Georgia improved to 4-0 on the season.

Chubb was part of a dominant rushing attack in the contest against the FCS Jaguars squad, as the running backs combined for 272 yards on 30 carries for better than 9 yards per carry on average as well as four touchdowns.

The Bulldogs also beat Southern through the air, with Greyson Lambert claiming another efficient performance going 9-for-10 for 146 yards and two touchdowns. Brice Ramsey also saw significant reps in the game, finishing 11-for-14 for 125 yards with a long pass of 30 yards.

Georgia never trailed in the game, jumping out to a 17-0 lead at the end of the first quarter after touchdowns from Chubb on a 24-yard catch from Lambert and a Sony Michel seven-yard run added to a season-long 47-yard field goal from Marshall Morgan. Morgan added one more field goal before the recess, and the Bulldogs led 20-6 at halftime.

With a renewed fire after taking the field once more, Georgia ran up 28 points against the Jaguars in the third quarter. Two of those scores came courtesy of two Chubb runs of nine yards and 49 yards, sandwiched around a 23-yard touchdown catch and run by Malcolm Mitchell. Michel punctuated the scoring with a 58-yard run in which he shrugged off several Southern defenders on his way to the end zone, producing the final score of 48-6.

The Bulldogs' defense flexed its muscle in the second half, stifling a Southern offense that entered the game averaging better than 38 points per game. Despite possessing the ball for 35:35, Southern managed only 184 yards of offense and 10 first downs. They averaged 3.3 yards per pass and 3 yards per carry after being unable to solve Georgia's defensive unit.

Most impressively, Georgia came out of the locker room with a fire when Southern had the ball. The Jaguars achieved only 34 yards and three first downs in the second half, one in the final quarter, and were held to a mere 79 yards passing.

Georgia defenders swarm to tackle Southern tailback Malcom Crockett in the second quarter.

• With freshman DE Michael Barnett seeing the field against Southern, UGA pushed its true-freshman total to 22 players achieving playing time. This number is tops in the nation.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"Everybody works hard and wants the opportunity to play. When you get a chance to play a lot of guys, it's good for morale and it's good for experience. I'm glad we got the game in position to do that. It'll be fun watching the tape."

#13 Alabama 38, #8 Georgia 10

Oct. 3, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens

ATHENS ---- Sophomore tailback Nick Chubb extended his 100-yard rushing streak to 13 games, tying Georgia great Herschel Walker, but the Bulldogs were unable to get much going offensively and lost to the Alabama Crimson Tide by a 38-10 tally.

Aside from Chubb's long run of 83 yards, a touchdown run that pushed him over the 100-yard plateau, the Bulldogs mustered only 216 yards, with 110 coming on the ground.

The stifling Alabama defense grounded Georgia's passing game, including quarterback Greyson Lambert, who entered the game with 33 completions in his previous 35 attempts. Lambert and sophomore Brice Ramsey combined to go 11-for-30 with three interceptions and 106 yards passing.

The two heavyweight programs exchanged blows early on with rigid defense, as the score went 3-3 into the middle portion of the second quarter. Over the span of five minutes, starting at 8:26 remaining in the half, the Crimson Tide scored three touchdowns to put the game out of reach. The first came courtesy of a 30-yard run by Derrick Henry, and the next two scores came exactly a minute apart with a blocked punt for a touchdown and a 45-yard pass from Jake Coker to Calvin Ridley to go up 24-3 before the half.

An interception return for a touchdown on Georgia's first possession of the second half gave the visitors a 31-3 lead. The Tide added on with a Coker touchdown run to go up 38-3 in the third. Chubb's 83-yard run with just five seconds remaining in the third quarter produced the final score of 38-10.

Despite the score, Georgia's defense did have a strong showing, holding Alabama well below its season averages in both passing and rushing. Additionally, coach Jeremy Pruitt's unit forced two turnovers and held the Crimson Tide to just one third-down conversion in 12 attempts as well as 0-for-2 on fourth down. The defense also forced Alabama into eight three-and-outs on the day.

Chubb's long run was a bright spot for the Bulldogs, who entered the game undefeated. In addition to the sophomore's scoring burst, his classmate Sony Michel proved effective on the ground with 54 yards on just nine carries.

Nick Chubb gained 146 yards against Alabama, marking his 13th straight game over the 100-yard mark and matching a school record first established by Herschel Walker.

• Sophomore tailback Nick Chubb matched Herschel Walker's school record mark of 13 consecutive games with at least 100 yards rushing after going for 146 yards on 20 carries and a touchdown. Chubb is only the 16th player to have at least 100 yards against Alabama's defense since 2005.
• Senior PK Marshall Morgan connected on a 27-yard field goal early in the second quarter to tie the score at 3-3. Morgan has scored the third-most points in Georgia history (354) and is 5-for-7 on field goals this season and 51-for-66 in his career. Coming into Saturday, Morgan was fourth among active players in the NCAA for total points. With his PAT after Chubb's run, Morgan set a SEC record with 202 straight successful extra-points.
• Alabama was the first opponent to score off a Georgia turnover this season. The Bulldogs have 24 points off of seven opponent turnovers, while opponents have seven points off seven Bulldog giveaways.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"It's no fun to have that kind of performance, but it's a long season and we have to get ready for the next one. We've got a lot of corrections and get back on track. We got whipped, we all know it and we've got to do something about it. We'll watch the film and face the truth and look at ways we can improve."

Tennessee 38, #19 Georgia 31

Oct. 10, 2015 • Neyland Stadium - Knoxville, Tenn.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. ---- Georgia jumped out to a 24-3 lead, but Tennessee outscored the Bulldogs 35-7 from there to take a 38-31 win in front of a sold out Neyland Stadium crowd of 102,455 and a CBS national television audience.

Georgia lost sophomore tailback Nick Chubb early in the contest to a knee injury on the first play from scrimmage.

The Bulldogs scored the first of two non-offensive touchdowns, with Leonard Floyd scooping up a fumble and returning it 96 yards for a touchdown for a 7-0 lead. The Vols ate up close to five minutes off the clock on their next possession to add a 22-yard field goal and put the score at 7-3 at the end of the first quarter.

On Georgia's first offensive possession of the second quarter, the Bulldogs scored in just five plays, capped off by a Greyson Lambert to Mitchell 28-yard TD completion with 14:53 to go until halftime. The UGA scoring surge continued in the second quarter as Marshall Morgan added a 37-yard field goal, which was followed by Reggie Davis' 70-yard punt return for a TD to put the Bulldogs up, 24-3.

Tennessee then reeled off two touchdowns in the matter of 37 seconds to climb back in the game and cut UGA's halftime lead to 24-17.

After the teams traded possessions to begin the second half, the Vols struck first in the third quarter as quarterback Joshua Dobbs capped off a 6-play, 67-yard drive with a 1-yard TD run to tie the game.

The two teams then traded touchdowns to even the score at 31-31, before Dobbs' 5-yard TD run with 5:48 remaining proved to be the game winner in Tennessee's 38-31 victory. Georgia mounted a rally late, with a final drive ending deep in Tennessee territory.

Reggie Davis scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 70-yard punt return in the second quarter. He was named SEC Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts.

• Sophomore TB Nick Chubb went down with a left knee injury on the first play from scrimmage after a two-yard gain and did not return. He had a streak of 13 straight games with at least 100 yards, which was a school record he shared with Herschel Walker.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"I was just proud of their effort. I think Reggie (Davis) played his best game. He was on kickoff return, punt return. When we were on punt he was covering kicks and then he's playing offense just about every snap. He was playing his tail off. His shoulder got knocked down a little bit, he was kind of debating whether he could keep going, he sucked it up and kept going. I am really proud of the effort he gave throughout."

Georgia 9, Missouri 6

Oct. 17, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens

ATHENS ---- In a defensive battle, the Georgia Bulldogs emerged victorious on homecoming with a 9-6 win over the Missouri Tigers before a sellout crowd of 92,746 at Sanford Stadium.

Late special teams play helped Georgia edge Missouri, as a forced fumble on a punt late in the third quarter set up the tying field goal to bring Georgia back even at 6-6. The winning drive, which was capped with just more than a minute remaining, was set up by a punt return by freshman Terry Godwin that put Georgia in terrific field position. With 1:44 remaining, and after a seven-play, 33-yard drive, senior placekicker Marshall Morgan hit his third field goal of the night to give Georgia the decisive 9-6 lead.

The stingy defensive effort for Georgia was indeed a historic feat, as the Bulldogs were able to win their first game without scoring a touchdown since 1995. Georgia held Missouri and preseason All-SEC running back Russell Hansbrough to just 21 yards on 22 rushing attempts. The Tigers had -1 yards on the ground going into halftime.

The defense set the tone early with a goal line stand on Missouri's first possession of the game which started at the 1-yard line after an interception by Ian Simon was almost taken in for a score. Senior wideout Kenneth Towns made the stop before the goal line, and the defense took it from there with two negative plays on the following possession.

Led by Jake Ganus and his nine tackles on the day, Georgia surrendered only six first downs to Missouri. Three of those came on one drive. The secondary also held Mizzou in check by frustrating true freshman Drew Lock, who started his first career road contest, and held him to just 11 of 26 passing for 143 yards along with four sacks.

Despite the low score, Georgia's offense did have a productive day against a salty Missouri defense that entered the game in the top 10 in scoring and rushing allowed. Sony Michel led the way for the running backs with 87 yards, and the unit as a whole totaled 120 against a tough Missouri front-seven. Quarterback Greyson Lambert also shook off his early pick, finishing an efficient 23 of 32. He added 178 yards through the air, 49 of which came via Mitchell and his seven receptions. Godwin set a new career high with six receptions for 78 yards on the day.

The offense also showed progress in previous problem areas with nearly 39 minutes of possession time and a 9-of-19 performance on third downs.

The Bulldog defense kept Mizzou in check by holding the Tigers to just 164 yards of offense.

Worth Noting…

• The Bulldogs won a game without scoring a touchdown for the first time since 1995, when they defeated Kentucky by a 12-3 tally in Athens.
• The victory over the two-time SEC East champs pushed Georgia's all-time series lead against Missouri to 4-1. Additionally, the win makes Georgia 75-17-2 on Homecoming and extends its winning streak to nine for the big game.
• Marshall Morgan accounted for all nine points for Georgia in the contest. His 34-yarder with 1:44 left was his second career game-winner. He is 9-for-13 on the year and 55-for-71 in his career, and he is now tied for fourth on the SEC all-time scoring list with 371 career points.
• The Bulldog defense held Missouri to just a pair of field goals on 48 plays and 164 yards. Georgia put the clamps on in the second half, holding Mizzou to just 37 yards in the game's final 30 minutes. Mizzou made only three trips to the red zone for the game.
• Freshman receiver Terry Godwin set new career highs with six catches and 78 yards through the air.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"I'll take that every day, just so long as there's a victory at the end of it. I'm thankful and happy right now. It's not going to be pretty all the time, but the victory is pretty. The bottom line is everyone kept battling, kept fighting, kept believing. I'm just really proud of the job everybody did. Sometimes the toughest ones are the best ones."

#11 Florida 27, Georgia 3

Oct. 31, 2015 • EverBank Field - Jacksonville, Fla.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. ---- Georgia's offense was unable to find paydirt for the second consecutive game, and the Bulldogs (5-3, 3-3) fell victim to five turnovers as they dropped a SEC East divisional contest to Florida by a 27-3 tally at EverBank Field in Jacksonville.

Junior Faton Bauta made his first career start, throwing for 154 yards on 15 completions but was picked off four times by a stout Gator secondary. Terry Godwin and Malcolm Mitchell each had four receptions in the contest, with Godwin totaling 42 yards and Mitchell boasting 60. The running game never quite found its legs, though, as Georgia was held to 69 yards on 22 carries.

Florida claimed control of the game early, jumping on top 20-0 before the intermission. They were first on the board as a muffed punt at the 5-yard line by Reggie Davis was recovered by the Gator unit in the end zone late in the first quarter. After extending their lead to 13-0 on a 66-yard pass from Treon Harris to Antonio Callaway, the Gators punched in their third touchdown with a short run at the goal line, set up by an interception by Vernon Hargreaves III returned to the Georgia 5.

The defense held Florida off the board for much of the second half, allowing a touchdown at the 7:10 mark of the game's final quarter. The final scoring drive came after the Bulldog offense appeared to gain some steam, marching into Florida's red zone before an interception kept Georgia from scoring.

Georgia's lone scoring drive came after a forced fumble by Davin Bellamy who had a strong game on the defensive side of the ball with a team-high seven tackles. Six plays later, Marshall Morgan split the uprights from 27 yards out to trim the deficit to 20-3.

Sophomore Brice Ramsey received his first starting nod at punter for the Bulldogs and performed well, averaging 43.4 yards per punt on five kicks. Ramsey had one punt on the year coming into the game.

Davin Bellamy led the Bulldogs on defense with seven total tackles against Florida.

• Junior QB Faton Bauta made his first career start and finished 15-for-33 for 154 yards and four picks. He entered the game with only five career passes with four completions for 48 yards.
• Freshman DB Juwuan Briscoe and redshirt sophomore TE Aulden Bynum both made their first starts, lifting Georgia's first-time starter count to 17 for the season.
• Brice Ramsey handled punting duties for UGA, posting a 43.4-yard average on five punts. His first went for a career-best 50 yards.
• Sterling Bailey's block of Florida's first PAT attempt was Georgia's first of the season. The previous block of a PAT came from Ray Drew last season against Georgia Tech.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"We played hard, but we have to be more productive, obviously. Offensively, we have to get first downs and we have to get points on the board. We struggled in that area. We couldn't get much running the ball, and there were some batted balls. A lot of times those things fall incomplete, but tonight they landed in (Florida's) hands."

Georgia 27, Kentucky 3

Nov. 7, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens, Ga.

ATHENS ---- An all-around team performance from the Georgia Bulldogs led to their 27-3 defeat of the Kentucky Wildcats at Sanford Stadium.

The Bulldogs (6-3, 4-3) were outstanding defensively for all 60 minutes, especially in the first-half, when Georgia held Kentucky (4-5, 2-5) to just 99 total yards and forced two turnovers. Georgia came out with the same intensity for the remaining 30 minutes, holding Kentucky to just 81 yards. Overall, the Wildcats were held to just 180 yards for the game. Defensive back Dominick Sanders recorded two interceptions on the contest.

The Bulldogs did most of their damage offensively on the ground, led by Sony Michel with 165 yards rushing and one touchdown. Terry Godwin chipped in 26 yards along with a touchdown of his own. Greyson Lambert and Brice Ramsey combined to go 10 for 19 with 90 yards and a touchdown.

The Bulldogs were first to strike, putting six on the board after Terry Godwin took a direct snap 28-yards for a touchdown. Georgia tacked on three more points to its lead late in the first-quarter with a 22-yard field goal from Marshall Morgan. The score was set up by a muffed punt by the Wildcats at the 25-yard line that was recovered by deep snapper Nathan Theus.

Kentucky put its first points on the board with 1:12 left on the clock in the second quarter drilling a 32-yard field goal. Georgia drove the length of the field on the ensuing drive, but was unable to convert a field goal attempt as time expired.

To begin the second-half Georgia stuffed Kentucky's fourth down attempt near midfield handing the offense good field position for the Bulldogs first drive of the half. The Bulldogs marched their way down the field for 53-yards, capping the drive off with a one-yard Sony Michel touchdown run.

Michel broke off a 46-yard run midway through the third quarter to set the Bulldogs up for their third touchdown on the afternoon. Lambert hit running back Keith Marshall on a screen pass for a 10-yard touchdown to put the Bulldogs up 24-3.

Following Dominick Sanders' second interception on the game, the Bulldogs were able to score three points on a 28-yard field goal from Morgan.

Keith Marshall used an effective stiff-arm to score on a 10-yard catch late in the third quarter against the Wildcats.

Coach Mark Richt said…

"It was a good day, a good solid victory. It was the last (conference) home game for the seniors and it meant a lot to them to finish with style. The underclassmen played their tails off for those guys. That was a motivating factor and they did a good job of that. Overall, the coaches and the players did a wonderful job of focusing on what's important."

Georgia 20, Auburn 13

Nov. 14, 2015 • Jordan-Hare Stadium - Auburn, Ala.

AUBURN, Ala. -- A strong second-half from Georgia (7-3, 5-3) pushed the Bulldogs past the Auburn Tigers (5-5, 2-5), 20-13, in the Deep South's Oldest Rivalry to mark the 119th meeting between the two storied programs.

Heading into the game the two schools had perfectly split the previous 118 games 55-55-8 since the first meeting on February 20, 1892. UGA now leads the all-time series record 56-55-8. The lead in the series is the first for the Dawgs since 1986.

After trailing 10-3 at halftime, Georgia scored 17 unanswered points in the second-half highlighted by a 53-yard punt return for a touchdown with 9:28 left in the fourth quarter by Isaiah McKenzie to put the Bulldogs ahead 17-10. The ensuing possession Georgia's defense forced a fumble deep in Auburn territory, leading to a 38-yard Marshall Morgan field goal extending the score 20-10 with 6:49 remaining in the game.

Georgia's defense put the final stamp on the game by forcing a fumble on the one-yard line on the Tigers second-to-last possession. Auburn hit a late field goal, but Georgia was able to recover the onside kick and run out the remaining time.

The Bulldogs were led on the ground with 77 yards from running back Sony Michel. Quarterback Greyson Lambert finished 12 for 17 through the air with 97 yards. Georgia's defense stuffed the Tigers all afternoon holding them to just 62-yards passing and 275-yards overall.

The Tigers were first on the scoreboard, punching in a seven-yard touchdown run just over four minutes into the game. An interception by UGA's Malcolm Parrish on the 40-yard line led to Georgia's first points of the game, a 40-yard field goal from Marshall Morgan.

Auburn's Daniel Carlson hit a 53--yard field goal right before halftime to give the Tigers a 10-0 lead heading into the locker rooms. A slow start offensively and missed opportunities in the red zone limited the Bulldogs' scoring chances early.

The Bulldogs tied things up at 10-10 with a four-yard touchdown on a sweep to Isaiah McKenzie. The drive was kept alive on a critical personal foul facemask call against Auburn on a third and short.

Isaiah McKenzie is hoisted aloft by QB Greyson Lambert after he made the game's pivotal play, a 53-yard punt return for a touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 17-10 lead with 9:28 left. It was McKenzie's second TD of the game.

Worth Noting…

• With the win, Georgia reclaimed the series lead in the "Deep South's Oldest Rivalry" for the first time since 1986. The series is now 56-55-8 in UGA's favor. Under Coach Mark Richt, UGA improved to 48-16 in road games.
• Sophomore Isaiah McKenzie tied a pair of schools records with his punt-return TD. He is now equal to the Pittsburgh Steelers' Brandon Boykin (2008-11) with four punt return TDs and a kickoff return TD in his career. His four punt return TDs ties him with Buzy Rosenberg (1970-72). McKenzie's score was the first punt return for a TD given up by Auburn in 10 years (Skyler Green, LSU, 2005).
• Georgia's first half scoring came from a 40-yard field goal from Marshall Morgan. He also added a 38-yarder in the second half. He's now 60-for-78 in his career. With two PATs added in, Morgan now has 391 career points, third in SEC history as he passed Alabama's Leigh Tiffin (kicker) who had 385 from 2006-09. The only two players ahead of Morgan now are both former Bulldogs: Blair Walsh (412 from 2008-11) and Billy Bennett (409 points from 2000-03).

Coach Mark Richt said…

"That was a great victory for Georgia, a lot of fun afterwards in the locker room. Got a chance to celebrate with the coaches and the players, saw a smile on everybody's face. It's always a war to come here and play, it's always a battle. It went about the way we thought. I'm just really proud of how everybody played. Everybody stepped up at one point or another."

Georgia 23, Georgia Southern 17 (OT)

Nov. 21, 2015 • Sanford Stadium - Athens, Ga.

ATHENS -- Sophomore running back Sony Michel ran untouched for a 25-yard touchdown on Georgia's first play of overtime to give UGA (8-3,5-1) a 23-17 victory over Georgia Southern (7-3, 5-1) in Sanford Stadium on Saturday night.

Symbolic to the night, it was several seniors who stepped up big when it mattered. Senior linebackers Jake Ganus and Jordan Jenkins both made crucial stops in the overtime period to keep the Eagles from scoring.

Michel rambled his way to 132 total yards on the ground on 23 carries along with one touchdown. Quarterback Greyson Lambert finished 16 of 25 through the air with 183 yards and one touchdown. Senior wide receiver Malcolm Mitchel hauled in five catches for 73 yards to lead the UGA receiving unit. The Bulldogs held the Eagles to just 277 total yards on the game.

Georgia scored on its first drive of the game when wide receiver Isaiah McKenzie took an end around 23 yards into the end zone to put the Bulldogs up 7-0 just under four minutes into the game.

Neither team was able to find its groove offensively for over a quarter until Georgia Southern found its way onto the scoreboard via a one-yard plunge from running back L. A. Ramsby.

The Eagles seized momentum early in the third quarter when Caleb Williams raced 62 yards with recovered fumble for a touchdown. After an exchange of punts, the Bulldogs caught a much-needed break when Kenneth Towns pounced on a muffed punt at the Southern 29. Six plays later, Lambert found Terry Godwin in the front corner of the end zone for a 12-yard TD pass that knotted the score with 1:23 left in the third period.

Both squads kicked fourth-quarter field goals and were content to play an overtime period. Stout defensive plays by Leonard Floyd on first and second downs and, on fourth down, by Jordan Jenkins left Southern with an empty possession in overtime. The Georgia offense then decided the game on its first play, when Sony Michel sprinted through the line untouched for a 25-yard touchdown run.

The last 25 of Sony Michel's 132 yards came on the Bulldogs' first offensive play of overtime against Georgia Southern and delivered their 23-17 victory.

Worth Noting…

• The Bulldogs are now 7-5 in overtime games, including 1-1 in Sanford Stadium. This marks the second consecutive season in which the Dawgs played into extra time at home, with the 2014 contest against Georgia Tech needing overtime as well.

• GSU finished with 233 yards on 53 carries. The Eagles entered the contest with a nation-leading average of 378.9 yards per game. Georgia held GSU to just 277 total yards of offense.

• Isaiah McKenzie scored a rushing touchdown for the second consecutive week, hitting paydirt on a jet sweep once again. McKenzie's score was Georgia's first opening-drive touchdown of the season.

• Marshall Morgan's 43-yarder with 6:06 left tied the game at 17 after GSU took its first-ever 4th quarter lead against Georgia in series history. The kick was Morgan's 61st successful try, moving him into a tie for fourth in school history with Kanon Parkman (1991, 93-95).

Coach Mark Richt said…

"We kept our poise and our composure and kept doing our jobs until the very end. I was proud of the way we finished. The defense stoned them in overtime. We got the stop on fourth down and that allowed us to get it in the end zone and finish it."

Georgia 13, Georgia Tech 7

Nov. 28, 2015 • Bobby Dodd Stadium - Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA -- Georgia's defense shut down the Yellow Jackets' triple-option offense for most of the game, limiting the home squad to seven points and 276 yards en route to a 13-7 win at Bobby Dodd Stadium.

Offensively, Sony Michel finished with 149 yards on 24 carries, leading the Bulldogs to their 13th win over their in-state rival in the past 15 tries. Greyson Lambert finished the game 18-of-25 passing for 224 yards.

The Dawgs put together an eight-play, 75-yard scoring drive to start the game, punctuated by a Michel 34-yard scamper on 4th and 2. The story for Georgia then shifted to its defense, which came up big on back-to-back drives. James DeLoach first broke through for a tackle for loss on 4th-and-short for Tech on the Georgia side of the 50. On the Jackets' next possession, Dominick Sanders hauled in an interception at the goal line to keep the Jackets off the board.

It was more of the same to open the third quarter, when the Bulldogs forced a fumble as Tech entered UGA territory, and DeLoach came up with the ball to take over. The offense, sparked by a 22-yard screen pass to Michel, marched down the field and cashed in with a 19-yard field goal to build on the lead to 10-0.

Marshall Morgan's 37-yard kick 50 seconds into the final quarter put Georgia ahead 13-0. Tech avoided a shutout by scoring its only points on a touchdown pass with just 3:24 left. The Bulldogs responded with a pair of first downs on offense before turning possession over to Tech with 17 seconds left. That was enough time only for two passes, the second of which was intercepted by Malkom Parrish on the game's final play.

Senior OT John Theus congratulates Sony Michel after his 34-yard touchdown scamper in the first quarter of Georgia's win at Georgia Tech.

Worth Noting…

• With the 13-7 win, Georgia reclaimed the Governor's Cup Trophy and extended its series lead over in-state rival Georgia Tech to 65-38-5. The Bulldogs finish 13-2 against Tech under Mark Richt, including a perfect 8-0 in Atlanta.
• For the first time this season, UGA shut out its opponent in the first half. It was the first time Georgia Tech had been shut out at the half as well. The Bulldogs fell 3:24 short of recording their first shutout of GT since 1964.
• Dominick Sanders set a school record for interception return yards in a season with his 22-yard burst that put him at 205 for the season. He eclipsed the mark of 189 by Eli Maricich in 1948, who did so on eight INTs (Sanders has five).
• Sony Michel became the 13th Bulldog to hit the 1,000-yard mark in a single season. He finished the day with 24 carries and 149 yards as well as a touchdown.
• Freshman Natrez Patrick made his first career start at inside linebacker. He is the 22nd first-time starter for Georgia this season.
• Marshall Morgan eclipsed the 400-point mark for his career with a seven-point output in the contest. He finished the regular season at 403 in his career, good for third all-time at UGA and in SEC history.

Coach Mark Richt said…

""It was a great victory. I'm proud of our players, first and foremost. It was a great team effort. Our coaches did a wonderful job. Our fan base showed up in big numbers. I want to credit Coach Johnson and his team. They battled. Both teams battled well. It was kind of a typical game that we play."

"B-mac is hard, but he is fair. He holds everybody accountable and there is no nonsense. He demands greatness and hard work every single day. There is never a day off with him."
-- SE Justin Scott-Wesley

Bryan McClendon was named Interim Head Coach of the Bulldogs on Dec. 3, 2015. He will serve in that capacity through Georgia's appearance in the TaxSlayer Bowl.

A former wide receiver at UGA, McClendon held three titles during the 2015 regular season: Assistant Head Coach, Wide Receivers coach, and Passing Game Coordinator. From 2009-2014, he was the Bulldogs' running backs coach. McClendon also served as Recruiting Coordinator in 2014-15.

Since joining the full time staff, Georgia teams have won 63 games and two SEC Eastern Division titles. He's been part of an offensive staff that led Georgia to the 2014 SEC scoring offense title (41.3 ppg) and three consecutive record-setting seasons: Total Yards in a Season (6,547 in 2012, 6,294 in 2013, 5,964 in 2014); Average Yards Per Game (467.64 in '12, 484.2 in '13, 458.8 in '14); and Most TD's in a Season (72 in 2012, 58 in '13, 70 in '14).

He has coached some of the country's best tailbacks including Todd Gurley (2015 1st round draft choice of the St. Louis Rams), 2014 Freshman All-American Nick Chubb, and 2011 SEC Freshman of the Year Isaiah Crowell.

He was a four-year letterman with the Bulldogs (2002-05) and his senior class won 44 games--most by any class in Georgia history. During his tenure, the Bulldogs won three Southeastern Conference Eastern Division titles (2002, '03, '05), two SEC championships (2002, '05), and played in four bowl games (2003 Nokia Sugar, '04 Capital One, '05 Outback, '06 Nokia Sugar), winning three of them.

McClendon's career blossomed in 2005, when the Bulldogs won the SEC championship. The Atlanta, Ga., native caught 35 passes, six going for touchdowns. He caught the game-winning touchdown pass in the closing minutes against Georgia Tech, and then blocked a punt in the SEC Championship game, which led to the Bulldogs' third score in the 34-14 victory over LSU.

Following his Georgia career, McClendon signed a free agent contract with the NFL's Chicago Bears.

He graduated in December, 2005, with a degree in Recreation and Leisure Studies. He is the son of former Georgia tailback Willie McClendon, 1978 SEC Player of the Year and running back for the Chicago Bears.

He is married to the former Amber Arnold of Atlanta, Ga. They have two children, Bryan, 8; and Brooke, 3.

Thomas Brown

Running Backs

Former UGA tailback Thomas Brown was named the new running backs coach at his alma mater on February 16, 2015 after one season at Wisconsin.

At Wisconsin in 2014, Heisman Trophy runner-up Melvin Gordon and sophomore Corey Clement combined to run for 3,536 yards to break the single-season Football Bowl Subdivision record for rushing yards by teammates that had been set the year before by Gordon and James White (3,053 yards).

Under Brown's tutelage, the Badgers posted the two most prolific rushing performances in the country in 2014 with a school-record 644 rushing yards vs. Bowling Green and 581 vs. Nebraska, and their average of 6.91 yards per rushing attempt ranks as the fourth-best mark in FBS history.

Before joining the Wisconsin staff, Brown served as the running backs coach at Marshall in 2013 and at Chattanooga in 2012. He spent the 2011 season as an assistant strength and conditioning coach at UGA.

A native of Tucker, Ga., Brown finished his career as the fifth-leading rusher in UGA history with 2,646 yards. He was elected by his teammates as the permanent offensive team captain in 2007.

Brown and his wife Jessica have two children, Orlando and Tyson.

John Lilly

Tight Ends
Offensive Special Teams

John Lilly was named tight ends coach at UGA in 2008, after serving as tight ends coach and recruiting coordinator at Florida State University from 1998-2007. He added the duty of Offensive Special Teams Coordinator in 2014.

Lilly will handle the play-calling duties during the TaxSlayer Bowl, a role with which he is already familiar. He served in an identical capacity for Georgia during the team's 37-14 win over Louisville in the 2014 Belk Bowl. Under his direction, the Bulldogs tallied 492 total yards of offense, including 292 yards rushing, on a Cardinal defense that was ranked 10th nationally (308.5 yds/game).

Under Lilly's direction, four of FSU's recruiting classes between 2002 and 2007 were ranked in the top four in the nation. Prior to being named recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach, Lilly served as a graduate assistant (1996-97) and videographer (1995) at FSU. He was an assistant coach at Northwest Guilford High School in Greensboro, N.C., from 1991-94.

Lilly is married to the former Cheryl Brown of Tallahassee. They have two daughters, Allison Catherine and Abigail Christine, and a son, Caleb Jackson.

Rob Sale

Offensive Line

Rob Sale was named offensive line coach at the University of Georgia on January 10, 2015, after serving as the co-offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at McNeese State in 2014.

Sale joined the McNeese staff in February, 2012, as offensive line coach and was promoted to co-offensive coordinator in the summer of 2014. Prior to serving on the McNeese staff, he held positions as strength and conditioning assistant coach and offensive analyst from 2007 to 2011 at the University of Alabama. While at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won two national titles in 2009 and 2011.

In 2014, the McNeese offense averaged 32.4 points per game, 396.5 total yards per game, 221.9 yards per game rushing and 174.6 yards per game passing.

He began his coaching career in 2006 as the offensive line coach at Catholic High of Pointe Coupee in New Roads, La. Sale is a native of Monroe, La., played prep football at Neville High School and college football at LSU, where he was a three-year starter in the offensive line.

He and his wife Amanda have two sons, Tripp and Briggs.

Tracy Rocker

Assoc. Head Coach / Defensive Line

Tracy Rocker, one of the state of Georgia's greatest college players of all time, was named defensive line coach at UGA in January of 2014, and added the title of Associate Head Coach in 2015.

Rocker came to UGA after three years as defensive line coach with the NFL's Tennessee Titans. He is a former Auburn All-America defensive tackle, 1988 Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award winner, and was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2004.

Rocker coached three years with the Titans (2011, '12, '13). In 2012, they ranked 10th in the NFL in sacks (39). In his first season with the Titans, DT Karl Klug led all NFL rookie tackles with seven sacks, ranking fourth among all NFL DT's.

An 18-year veteran of college coaching, Rocker spent time with five programs and helped a number of players reach All-American honors.

As a player, Rocker was a two-time All American at Auburn and the 1988 Outland (best offensive or defensive lineman) and Lombardi winner. He was the first SEC player to earn both awards. He was named SEC Player of the Year after his final season (1988).

A native of Atlanta, Rocker and his wife Lalitha have a son, Kumar.

Kevin Sherrer

Inside Linebackers

Kevin Sherrer, defensive coordinator at South Alabama in 2013, was named a defensive assistant at Georgia on January 24, 2014.

Sherrer will assume defensive play-calling duties at the 2016 TaxSlayer Bowl.

Sherrer, who served as Director of Player Development at Alabama for three years prior to joining the South Alabama staff, coached defensive backs for the Jaguars. The 2013 South Alabama defense ranked second in the Sun Belt Conference in total defense (384.3 yards per game) and second in scoring defense (25.2 points per game).

Prior to joining the staff at Alabama, Sherrer was an assistant at Hoover (Ala.) High (2005-09) including serving as defensive coordinator the final three. The Buccaneers claimed the state 6A title in 2005 and 2009, and advanced to the title game in two other years. Sherrer was also the DB coach at Spain Park (Ala.) High School (2001-04), where he helped the Jaguars win 16 games his last two seasons. He began his career as an assistant at Tuscaloosa County (Ala.) High (1996-97).

Sherrer is a 1996 graduate of Alabama with a degree in physical education, and he earned his master's degree in higher education administration from the school in 2000. Sherrer and his wife Carrie have twin sons, Kaleb and Kyle.

Sinkwich Leads Bulldogs Past TCU in 1942 Orange Bowl

Georgia All-American quarterback Frankie Sinkwich, playing with an oversized chin mask to protect a broken jaw, put on an offensive display still considered by many as the greatest in any bowl game as he led his Bulldogs to a 40-26 win over Texas Christian before 35,786 fans in the 1942 Orange Bowl game (a record crowd in '42).

Sinkwich passed for touchdowns of 61, 60 and 15 yards and raced 43 yards on a QB draw for another score. He completed nine of 13 passes for 243 yards and rushed for 139 yards for a total offensive gain of 382 yards.

Georgia scored first as Ken Keuper rushed two yards over the goal line to give the Dogs the early 6-0 lead. TCU tied the game less than four minutes later after a Lamar Davis fumble led to a Horned Frog score from the four yard line. TCU kicked the point after and led 7-6. Georgia answered soon after the score on a 60-yard pass play from Sinkwich to Melvin Conger, giving the Bulldogs a 12-7 lead they would never relinquish.

When the Dogs left the field at halftime the score stood 33-7, prompting head coach Wally Butts to proclaim it the greatest offensive performance he ever saw by a UGA team. He also believed the Georgia squad, at the end of the 1941 season, was the most powerful he coached.

The lead was 40-7 in the third quarter before TCU mounted a late three-touchdown effort. Bruce Alford caught two passes for scores from Emory Nix and Frink Kring scored on a 53-yard play from Kyle Gillespie for the 40-26 final.

The 1942 Orange Bowl was played less than a month after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and was a record-setting event. Sinkwich set five individual Orange Bowl records in the win for combined rushing and passing yards (382), touchdown passes (3), points scored (24), yards gained on touchdown pass plays (136) and yards gained on all touchdown plays (179). Georgia's four touchdown passes set a bowl team record, as well as the Dogs' four interceptions. The combined seven touchdowns for Georgia and TCU also set a new Orange Bowl mark.

Trippi Gets Helms Award In 1943 Rose Bowl

With All-American Frankie Sinkwich hobbling on two sprained ankles, his young sophomore understudy — Charley Trippi — paced Georgia to a 9-0 victory over UCLA before 90,000 in the 1943 Rose Bowl at Pasadena.

Trippi rushed 27 times for a net gain of 115 yards and received the Helms Award as the game's outstanding player.

Recently the Rose Bowl named its all-time first team and put Trippi at left halfback.

Tackle Red Boyd blocked a Bob Waterfield punt which rolled out of the end zone for a safety to give Georgia two points in the last quarter. A few minutes later center Clyde Ehrhardt intercepted a Waterfield pass and returned to the UCLA 25. Sinkwich finally scored from the one and Leo Costa converted.

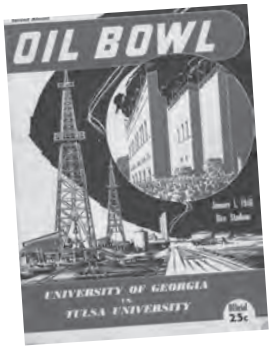
Trippi's Immortal Punt Return Helps Defeat Tulsa In 1945 Oil Bowl



Charley Trippi was at his best as Georgia defeated Tulsa, 20-6, in the Oil Bowl at Houston before 27,000.

He passed 64 yards to John Donaldson for Georgia's second TD and returned a punt 68 yards for the final Bulldog tally in the fourth quarter — a run still considered by many as the greatest punt return of all time. He completely reversed his field and ran over two Tulsa tacklers who had him trapped near a sideline.

Charley Trippi accepts National Pro Football Hall of Fame trophy.

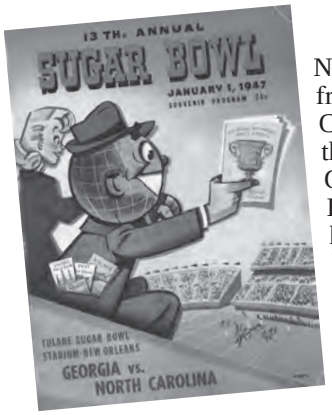
Trippi Closes Great Career In Sugar Bowl Playing Entire 60 Minutes



On a chilly and rainy day in New Orleans, Georgia battled back from two deficits to knock off North Carolina, 20-10, in front of 75,000 in the 13th renewal of the Sugar Bowl. Charley Trippi led the way for the Bulldogs, playing all 60 minutes in his last game wearing the red and black.

His 67-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to Dan Edwards gave the Dogs a 13-10 lead that the club would not relinquish.

The win was Georgia's 16th consecutive victory and gave the Bulldogs a perfect season (11-0) for just the second time in school history.

The scoring started when North Carolina's Walt Pupa ran 25 yards in the second quarter for the first lead of the game. Kicker Bob Cox added the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Georgia was held scoreless into halftime, but Johnny Rauch plunged into the endzone from one yard out in the third quarter and was followed by George Jernigan's extra point for a 7-7 tie.

Cox gave the Tar Heels the lead later in the third quarter with an 18-yard field goal, but the play of the day, Trippi's 67-yarder to Edwards, answered the Tar Heel score and Georgia never looked back.

Rauch, Geri Shine in 1948 Gator Bowl

Georgia's All-America quarterback Johnny Rauch had one of the best days of his career in Jacksonville, completing 12 of 17 passes for 183 yards. Captain Dan Edwards caught five passes and Joe Geri averaged 43.5 yards on seven punts.

The game remained scoreless after one quarter of play, but Maryland's Lu Gambino ran 35 yards for the first score of the game. The Terps held that 7-0 lead into halftime.

Georgia took the opening drive of the second half 87 yards, capped by Rauch's 1-yards plunge into the endzone. Maryland answered with an 80-yard drive of its own and took the lead again on Gambino's second TD of the day. Later in the third, Georgia drove to its own 40 yard line but fumbled away possession. Three plays later the Terps were leading 20-7.

The fourth quarter was all Georgia, as the Bulldogs scored once on a Geri four-yard run and again on a nine-yard pass from Rauch to John Donaldson. The extra point was no good after Geri's TD and time ran out on a tied ball game with Georgia knocking on the door for another score.

A&M Zips Past Georgia in 1950 Presidential Cup Tilt

Georgia lost its seventh visit to a post-season affair, 40-20, to Texas A&M in the first and only Presidential Cup game at College Park, Md., before 12,245 fans on Dec. 9, 1950.

Georgia's Zippy Morocco, who later was to set the all-time SEC basketball scoring record, scored two touchdowns on brilliant runs, the first coming on a 65-yard punt return and the other a 23-yard rush.

A&M jumped out early and never looked back, scoring 40 unanswered points through three quarters of play. Before two minutes had been played in the opening quarter, the score was 13-0 after Bob Smith took the opening kickoff 100 yards and Glenn Lippman scored from five yards out after a Bulldog fumble. Another 81-yard TD rush by Smith in the first quarter buried the Bulldogs.

Morocco scored on a two-yard run in the third and a 65-yard punt return in the fourth to get the Dogs on the board. Lauren Hargrove added the last score of the day on a one-yard rush to make the final 40-20.

Tarkenton's TD Passes Key 1960 Orange Bowl Win

Francis Tarkenton directed two excellent scoring drives of 62 and 71 yards in Georgia's 14-0 victory over Missouri in the 1960 Orange Bowl before 75,280.

Late in the first quarter Tarkenton anticipated a quick kick to set up the first score. He returned it 17 yards to the M 38. On third down and nine he passed to Fred Brown for 12 to the M 25. On third and 14 he fired to Bill McKenny, rookie RHB from Jacksonville, for 29 yards and the TD, Durward Pennington's PAT made it 7-0.

Ridlehuber Rips Raiders In 1964 Sun Bowl

The 7-0 conquest of Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl at El Paso Dec. 26, 1964, before 28,500 may have been the Bulldogs' best game of a glorious ''Cinderella'' season.

The defense held the Red Raiders' vaunted offense, which led the Southwest Conference with almost 300 yards per game, to only 128 yards (32 rushing and 96 passing). And, the offensive troops rolled up 329 yards (245 rushing and 84 passing), their second best performance of the season.

Preston Ridlehuber had by far the most productive day of his Georgia varsity career and clearly deserved the trophy awarded him as the game's outstanding performer. Preston ran 19 times for 87 yards, completed 4x5 passes for 77 yards, giving him a total of 164 yards.

Kent Lawrence Sets Cotton Bowl Record as Bulldogs Win Big over SMU

Kent Lawrence

Georgia magnificently upheld the honor of the SEC with its decisive 24-9 victory over Southern Methodist University, Southwest Conference champ, Dec. 31, 1966, in Dallas' Cotton Bowl before 75,504.

Kent Lawrence established a Bulldog bowl-game rushing record vs. the Mustangs. His 149 yards in 16 carries erased the old Georgia bowl-game mark of 139 yards in 22 rushes by Frank Sinkwich vs. TCU in the 1942 Orange Bowl.

Lawrence's 74-yard TD rush on the game's third play also was the longest scoring play in Bulldog bowl annals. He was voted the game's outstanding player.

Bob Etter's 28-yard FG put Georgia out front 10-3 at the quarter. Steve Neuhaus set up another score with an interception at the SMU 33. Kirby Moore hit Billy Payne on a 20-yard scoring pass and Etter made it 17-3.

There was only one score in the last half. The Bulldogs drove 59 yards to goal early in the fourth quarter with Ronnie Jenkins carrying nine of the 12 rushes. Jenkins scored from the one. Etter made it 24-9.

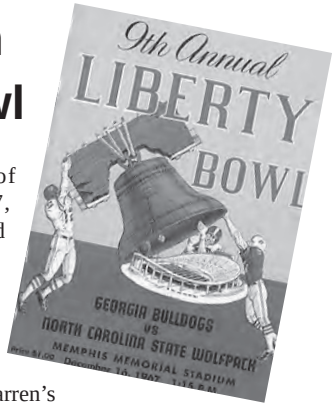
N.C. State Rallies Past Georgia in 1967 Liberty Bowl



A record Liberty Bowl crowd of 35,045 at Memphis Dec. 16, 1967, saw N.C. State, led by former Bulldog head coach Jim Donnan, trim Georgia, 14-7.

The Wolfpack cashed in their scoring opportunities, drawing first blood in the second quarter on a 65-yard drive—aided by a timely 15-yard penalty —that saw Donnan pass 6 yards to Martell for a TD. Warren's PAT made it 7-0.

Georgia retaliated with a fine 68-yard scoring drive, Lawrence starting things off with a 42-yard kickoff return. Kirby Moore hit on four passes, three to Dennis Hughes and one to Billy Payne. Ronnie Jenkins scored from the one and Jim McCullough's PAT knotted the count at 7-7 midway the second quarter.

State went ahead early in the fourth quarter, driving 73 yards with Barchuk scoring from the one. Warren's PAT was good.

Georgia again fought back and mounted a great 98-yard drive that ended with Lawrence failing to score by inches after taking a pitchout from Moore at the N.C. State 3 and sprinting to the 1. Lawrence was voted the game's most valuable offensive back, while Edgar Chandler was the most valuable offensive lineman.

Georgia Upset by Arkansas Razorbacks in 1969 Sugar Bowl

A huge Sugar Bowl crowd of 82,113 saw Arkansas, champion of the Southwest Conference, upset Georgia, champion of the Southeastern Conference, 16-2, on Jan. 1, 1969.

The Bulldogs had the ball six times in the first quarter but lost possession three times on fumbles and once on a pass interception.

But the Georgia defense played well and the quarter ended scoreless. The Razorbacks moved 65 yards for a TD early in the second quarter, scoring on a 27-yard pass, Montgomery-Dicus. White's PAT made it 7-0.

Midway the second quarter David McKnight tossed Burnett for a six-yard loss and a safety to make it 7-2, but a Bulldog fumble a few plays later gave Arkansas position for a 34-yard field goal by White which made it 10-2 at halftime.

Georgia ''blew'' a good chance early in the third quarter after recovering an Arkansas fumble on the kickoff. Brad Johnson fumbled on the goal line on third down, and the ball went out of the end zone.

A fumble and pass interception in the fourth quarter put Arkansas in position for two more field goals by White (24 and 31 yards).

Nebraska Too Much for Dogs in 1969 Sun Bowl

Nebraska turned out to be every bit as good as advertised.

''They were the best team we played all season,'' said Captain Steve Greer following the Cornhuskers' 45-6 victory before a sun-baked Sun Bowl crowd of 31,176 in El Paso Dec. 20.

The Cornhuskers took advantage of a strong wind to kick four field goals in the exceptionally-long first quarter (scoreboard clock broke and officials admitted afterwards that the first quarter was too long).

Trailing 18-0 after the first quarter, Georgia fought back to hold the big and fast Big Eight co-champions scoreless in the second quarter. But the Nebraskans took advantage of six pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries to run up the score, 14 points in the third quarter and 13 in the fourth.

Paul Gilbert directed Georgia's lone TD in the fourth quarter. He completed passes of 16 yards to Charley Whittemore, 11 to Dennis Hughes, then scored himself from the six. Jim McCullough's PAT kick was wide.

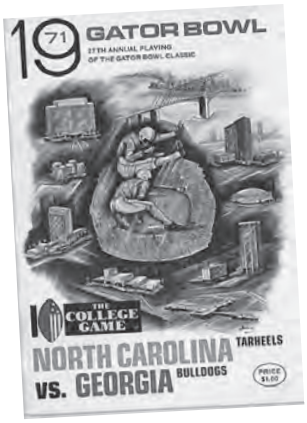
Poulos Superb in 1971 Gator Bowl



Georgia played perhaps its finest defensive game of the season to beat North Carolina 7-3 in the Gator Bowl, Dec. 31, 1971, before 71,208.

The Bulldogs held the Tar Heels to only 181 yards total offense (115 rushing and 66 passing).

Dennis Watson was the defensive hero, making tackles time and time again. He made three straight tackles during one stretch.

Offensively, the Bulldogs gained a lot of ground (322 yards) but were sporadic, particularly in the first half. But, following the Tar Heels' lone scoring drive of the game which resulted in a 35-yard FG by Craven, the Bulldogs finally mounted a beautiful 80-yard march that settled the issue.

The scintillating sophomores, Jimmy Poulos and Andy Johnson, ran the ball from Georgia's 20 to the G 43. Then Johnson hit split end Lynn Hunnicutt on a great 32-yard play to the NC 25. On the next snap, Poulos broke around left end down the sidelines to score, side-stepping the safety. Braswell made it 7-3.

The nation's TV audience once again was thrilled by the exploits of Poulos, the Greek Streak, who set a Georgia bowl rushing record in the Gator Bowl. He netted 161 yards on 20 carries to better the old Bulldog bowl mark of 149 yards on 16 rushes by Kent Lawrence against SMU in the 1966 Cotton Bowl.

Tough Terps Trimmed in 1973 Peach Bowl

Hats off to the Bulldogs for their thrilling 17-16 triumph over the Terrapins in the 1973 Peach Bowl Dec. 28 before 38,017 in Atlanta Fulton County Stadium.

Early in the second quarter, thanks to runs by Horace King and Andy Johnson, Georgia reached the Maryland 17 but was stopped. Johnson hit Jimmy Poulos on a screen and the Greek Streak went 62 yards for a score in one of the finest runs ever made by a Georgia back. Two plays later Maryland's Carter and White hooked up on a 68-yard haymaker and Mick-Mayer's PAT tied it 7-7.

Later Mike-Mayer put Maryland out front 10-7 on a 36-yard FG. Then the Bulldogs roared back with one of their best drives of the season. Captain Bobby Burns ripped up the middle for 21. Johnson hit King for 30, then ran 12 after faking a pass to the UM 9. With the clock running out, the Bulldogs had to settle for a 26-yard FG by Leavitt to make it 10-10 at halftime.

Tremendous defensive play set up Georgia's go-ahead TD late in the third quarter. Following Golden's 43-yard punt to Smith, tackled in his tracks at the UM 11 by Glynn Harrison, Sylvester Boler smashed through and hit QB Kinard as he was pitching out to Jennings. The hit caused a fumble that was recovered by Dick Conn at the Maryland 8 yard line. On third down, Johnson scored from the one and Leavitt made it 17-10.

A nine-yard punt and fumble by Richard Appleby, on an end-round, presented Maryland with two FG opportunities in the fourth quarter. Both were cashed in on by Mick Mayer (25 and 28 yards) to close the gap to 17-16.

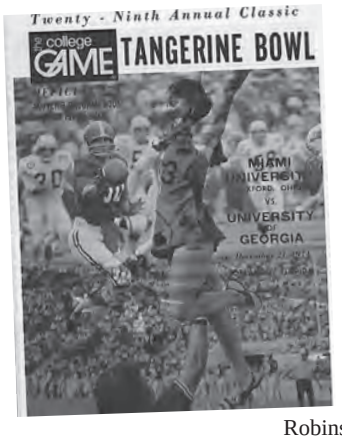
Dogs Fall To Miami 21-10 in 1974 Tangerine Bowl



Miami of Ohio won its 23rd in a row with a 21-10 vicotry over Georgia in the Tangerine Bowl before 20,246 at Orlando, on Dec. 21, 1974.

It might have been a close game had not the Bulldogs given Miami two easy scoring chances with fumbles at their own 25 (first play from scrimmage) and 22. The Redskins cashed both opportunities, and in between, marched 68 yards to goal, QB Smith passing seven yards to E. Taylor for the TD.

After trailing 7-0, Georgia did make a good drive, first down at the UM 9, the big gainer being a 43-yard pass, Robinson to Appleby. But the vaunted Miami defense held and Allan Leavitt kicked at 21-yard FG.

Georgia came back strong in the second half and won it, 7-0. The defense played considerably better.

Midway through, the third quarter Butch Box, covering a Bucky Dilts punt, recovered a fumble at the Miami 41. Glynn Harrison immediately broke loose for 28 yards to the UM 13. Five plays later Ray Goff plunged over from the one and Leavitt made it 21-10.

Georgia outgained Miami in total offense, 274 to 242. Georgia had only 74 yards rushing but 200 passing. Miami had 228 rushing, 14 passing.

Cinderella Dogs Bow to Hogs in 1976 Cotton Bowl

The big clock in the Cotton Bowl showed 1:49 left in the first half with Georgia leading Arkansas, 10-0. Not a soul there or any one of the millions watching CBS-TV had any idea then that the Bulldogs, who had played almost a perfect game for nearly a half, would suffer one tough blow after and finally succumb, 31-10 on Jan. 1, 1976.

Georgia amazed the crowd of 74,500 by taking the opening kickoff and ramming the ball all the way to the A4. But the Razorbacks held and Georgia had to settle for a 35-yard FG by Allan Leavitt.

In the second quarter Matt Robinson connected with Gene Washington on a nifty 21-yard scoring play and Georgia led 10-0.

But two Georgia fumbles in the last two minutes of the first half resulted in an Arkansas FG (Little, 39 yards) and TD (Forte, 1-yd. rush).

It was a scoreless third quarter but the Hogs tallied three times in the final period.

"Glidin' " Glynn Harrison led the Georgia team to the '76 Cotton Bowl.

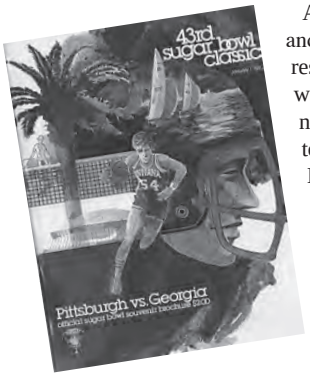
#1 Pittsburgh Tops Dogs in '77 Sugar Bowl



Armed with a number four national ranking and the distinction of being first team to represent the conference in the SEC's "marriage" with the Sugar Bowl, Georgia's dreams of a national title were convincingly shattered by top-ranked Pittsburgh, 27-3, in the Sugar Bowl shootout for the national championship.

With a Sugar Bowl record crowd for the Superdome of 76,117 fans looking on, Pittsburgh made believers of the whole nation in justifying their top national billing.

Junior quarterback Matt Cavanaugh and heralded Heisman Trophy winner Tony Dorsett supplied most of the offensive fireworks for the Panthers in building a 21-0 halftime lead. Cavanaugh directed his team 80 yards in the first quarter for Pitt's initial score, covering the last six yards himself on a keeper. In the second quarter, the Pittsburgh junior unveiled a brilliant passing game to account for another Pittsburgh score by hitting FLK Matt Jones for a 59-yard scoring strike. Dorsett added the Panthers' third TD of the day on an 11-yard burst to make the halftime tally 21-0.

The Bulldog offense, which had been stymied all day by the swarming Pittsburgh defense, finally was able to put something on the scoreboard in the third quarter. On Pitt's first possession of the second half, fullback Elliott Walker was separated from the ball on the Panthers' own 26-yard line, where defensive end Lawrence Craft fell on it for the Bulldogs. But several plays later, Georgia found themselves faced with fourth and goal on the seven and had to settle for Allan Leavitt's 25-yard field goal for their only score of the day.

Pitt's Carson Long added field goals of 42 and 31 yards as the Panthers claimed the 1976 national championship.

Stanford Rallies For Win in 1978 Bluebonnet Bowl

Georgia's Wonderdogs outgained Stanford 525 yards to 317, but lost the game 25-22 before 34,084 fans in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston on December 31, 1978.

Fumbles and penalties, missed PAT's and FG's and precision passing by All-American QB Steve Dils, enables the Cardinal to overcome a 22-0 deficit in the second half.

The Bulldogs played their best game of the season in running up an early advantage to the 22-0. They scored on their second possession in the first quarter, Rex Robinson kicking a 31-yd FG. On their third possession, Georgia's Buck Belue passed to flanker Carmon Prince 22 yards for a TD, but Robinson missed on the PAT to make Georgia a 9-0 leader.

As the half closed, Jeff Pyburn directed an 80-yard drive in seven plays as he spotted Prince for an eight-yard strike. Robinson was wide again on the PAT and Georgia led 15-0.

Georgia drove 75 yards to goal after the second half kick-off and took only six plays as Pyburn dove in from the one, making the score 22-0.

Two Bulldog fumbles accounted for Stanford's first pair of touchdowns, and their third tally came on a 14-yard pass from Dils to Ken Margerum. The two-point conversion was good, knotting the score at 22. The Cardinal recovered another Georgia fumble to set up their go-ahead field goal of 24 yards. Georgia came back strong, driving to the Stanford 14, but Robinson missed on a 31-yard attempt.

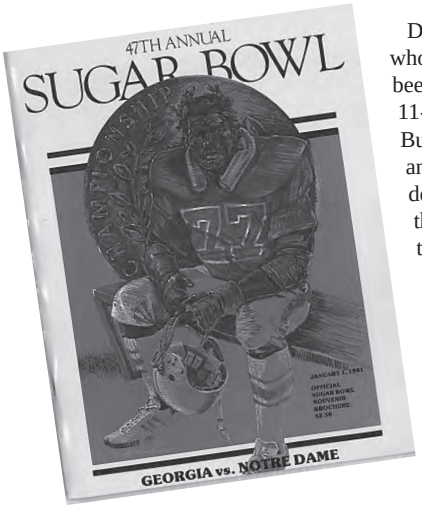
Georgia Whips Irish for '81 Sugar Bowl Win and the National Championship



Determined to silence the critics who had claimed Georgia had been lucky in streaking to a perfect 11-0 regular season slate, the Bulldogs journeyed to New Orleans, No. 1 ranking in hand, and defeated Notre Dame, 17-10, in the 1981 Sugar Bowl to claim the national championship.

Played before a record Sugar Bowl crowd of 77,895 in the Louisiana Superdome, the game was one where Georgia capitalized on early Irish mistakes to take a 17-3 lead at halftime.

Notre Dame took the ball on the first possession of the contest from its own 20 all the way to the UGA 32 where kicker Harry Oliver booted a 50-yard field goal to give the Irish a 3-0 lead with 10:41 to go in the opening quarter.

Oliver tried another field goal moments later from the 48, but this time Bulldog freshman rover Terry Hoage slipped through the line to step in front and block the attempt, giving Georgia the ball at the ND49. Nine plays netted 20 yards and placekicker Rex Robinson was called on for a 46-yard field goal. The All-American was successful to tie the game at three apiece with less than two minutes remaining in the first period.

On the ensuing kickoff, Georgia capitalized on confusion among two Notre Dame return men, and Bulldog senior Bob Kelly recovered a loose football at the Irish one-yard line. Freshman marvel Herschel Walker, who would go on to gain 150 yards (the first 100-yard performance against the Notre Dame defense all season) and win the Miller-Digby MVP Trophy, dived on the second play for the touchdown. Robinson coverted the PAT and Bulldogs were up, 10-3, still in the first quarter.

Erk Russell's defense, which led the country in takeaways during the season, recovered another Notre Dame fumble early in the second period as Irish fullback John Sweeney was separated from the ball at the ND22 and Bulldog senior roverback Chris Welton pounced on it.

Walker broke an off tackle play for 12 yards to the ND10. Quarterback Buck Belue swept left for seven more to the Irish three-yard line, setting up a second and goal situation. Belue gave it to Walker and the 6-2, 220-pounder stormed into the endzone for his second score of the game. Robinson added the PAT and Georgia enjoyed a 17-3 lead.

Down 14 points, Notre Dame drove the second time it had the ball in the second half from its own 40-yard line to the G13. On a third down play there, Irish QB Blair Kiel dropped back, threw into the endzone to flanker Pete Holohan, only to watch Georgia's All-American cornerback Scott Woerner step in at the last minute to bat the pass away. Notre Dame's Oliver came in to kick a 30-yarder, but the ball sailed wide right.

The Irish finally got a touchdown after Georgia punted on the next possession. The passing of Kiel and running of tailback Phil Carter took Notre Dame 57 yards in 11 plays as the drive was climaxed by a one-yard plunge by Carter for the touchdown. Oliver booted the PAT and the Georgia lead was now 17-10 with :54 seconds of the third quarter showing on the Superdome scoreboard clock.

After Georgia was unable to move the ball, senior Mark Malkiewicz was called in to punt. The boot carried to the Irish 46 and Notre Dame, with momentum mounting, took over. Seven plays later, the Fighting Irish were at the G21 and fourth down staring them in the face. Oliver's 38-yard field goal attempt went wide to the left this time and the Bulldogs clung to their seven-point lead.

After two unsuccessful possessions by each team, Notre Dame got the ball one last time with 5:10 to go in the ballgame at the ND43. Carter ran around the end for seven yards to midfield. On second down, 6-1, 265-pound defensive guard Eddie Weaver caught Kiel behind the line for a four-yard loss, setting up a third and seven play. A Kiel-to-Nick Vehr pass got six yards back, making it fourth down, one yard to go.

A running play looked to be forthcoming, but Kiel surprised everyone when he faded back, looking for Dean Masztak, the big tight end, on the side line. One Bulldog, apparently not surprised by the call, was cornerback Woerner, who stepped up in front of Masztak for the interception (his second of the game) at the G34. Only 2:56 remained.

Runs by Belue and Walker gave the Bulldogs a first down at the G47. Two plays after that, Georgia recorded the biggest first down of the game when Belue hit his very first completion of the day on a seven-yard pass to senior flanker Amp Arnold. Walker got the Bulldogs another first down at the ND 38, where Georgia ran off three plays and watched the clock expire, prompting a sea of UGA fans to engulf the playing field for the national championship celebration.

Pitt Edges Bulldogs 24-20 In 1982 Sugar Bowl

Pittsburgh QB Dan Marino hit TE John Brown on a fourth-down 33-yard TD pass with just :35 seconds left to give the Panthers a come-from-behind 24-20 win over Georgia in the 1982 Sugar Bowl, dashing the Bulldogs' hopes for a second straight national championship.

Perhaps the most exciting of the holiday games of '82, the Pitt-Georgia matchup had six lead changes for the 77,224 who were in attendance at the Superdome.

Early in the fourth quarter it was Pittsburgh which capitalized on a Dog fumble at the G23. Four plays later, QB Marino found John Brown open for a six-yard TD play. The conversion put the Panthers, 17-13 with 11:40 to play in the game.

But the Bulldogs, entering the game ranked No. 2 in the country, weren't quite through yet. Taking over on the G20, Georgia drove the distance in 10 plays, climaxing the drive with a Buck Belue-to-Clarence Kay TD pass from six yards out. Kevin Butler's PAT put the lead in Georgia's favor, 20-17, with 8:31 remaining.

Each team failed on a possession and, with 3:46 left, the Panthers got the ball on the P20. Eleven plays later, they were at the G33, fourth down and five. Seconds later, TE Brown was in the endzone on the receiving end of Marino's game-winner.

Penn State Clips Dogs 27-23 In 1983 Sugar Bowl

Ater staking Penn State to a 20-3 second-quarter lead, the Bulldogs staged a great comeback but came up short, 27-23, to the Nittany Lions before 78,124 in the '83 Sugar Bowl Classic. The outcome foiled Georgia's chances for another national championship and a perfect 12-0 season.

Trailing 20-3 with only :39 remaining in the first half, Georgia took over on its 34-yard line. Lastinger completed four of five pass attempts, the final completion coming on a 10-yard scoring play to Herman Archie. Butler's PAT cut the deficit to 20-10 at intermission.

The Bulldogs took the second half kickoff and drove 69 yards in 11 plays as Herschel Walker, who netted 103 yards on the day, ran in from a yard out. Penn State's lead now was only 20-17.

The Nittany Lions took possession late in the third quarter at their 19. Six plays advanced the football to the G47. From there, Blackledge found his receiver Garrity, who made a diving catch in the endzone for a TD. Gancitano's PAT increased the PSU lead to 27-17.

Georgia didn't roll over, however. With 5:38 left to play, the Dogs took the ball at the P43 after a fumbled punt. Six plays later, Lastinger found TE Clarence Kay for a nine-yard TD pass. Only 3:54 remained. The two-point try failed and Georgia trailed 27-23.

Georgia could not prevent the Nittany Lions from getting two first downs and used up its allotted timeouts as Penn State ran out the clock. The game ended with the ball rolling into the Georgia endzone after a 62-yard punt from Ralph Giacomarro.

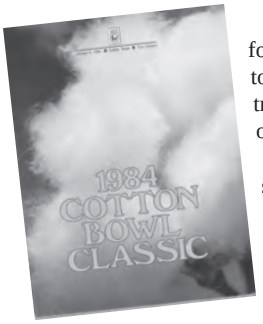
Georgia Upsets Texas 10-9 In 1984 Cotton Bowl



Georgia senior QB John Lastinger ran 17 yards for a go-ahead TD with just 3:22 left on the clock to lift the Bulldogs to a 10-9 Cotton Bowl Classic triumph over No. 2 Texas before 67,891 in Dallas on Jan. 2, 1984.

The winning TD had been set up when Bulldog sophomore Gary Moss recovered a Craig Curry fumbled punt at the Longhorn 23-yard line. Lastinger called his own number on the third play from scrimmage and darted outside right for the TD.

Texas had one more possession, but the Bulldog defense rose up recording two sacks (Kenny Sims and Ed Moore) to back the Longhorns up from their 28-yard line all the way to their seven. Georgia took control and ran off the final 2:19 on the clock after converting a fourth down play at the Texas 36.

As expected going into the Cotton Bowl, defense was the key for both teams as there were just 13 first downs and three points each achieved in the first half. Texas grabbed an early 3-0 lead with 10:32 to go in the first quarter when freshman Jeff Ward booted a 22-yard FG. The Bulldogs, after Moss returned a punt 29 yards to the Longhorn 43 late in the quarter, used four plays to move to the Texas 26 where Butler came in and kicked a 43-yarder.

Ward added his second three-pointer on the day with 7:10 to play in the third quarter as he connected on a 40-yard field goal. After a Georgia fumble at the G37, the Longhorns moved 26 yards in eight plays to the G11 where Ward came on and extended the Texas advantage to 9-3 with 3:50 to play in the third quarter.

FSU Rallies To Tie Bulldogs In 1984 Citrus Bowl

Georgia placekicker Kevin Butler's attempt of a 70-yard field goal fell just a foot short as time expired in the '84 Florida Citrus Bowl, enabling favored Florida State to hold off the upstart Bulldogs and earn a 17-17 tie before 51,821 in Orlando on Dec. 22, 1984.

The Bulldogs, who had hoped to use the Citrus Bowl as the start of their 1985 season, stormed out to a 14-0 halftime lead. Florida State battled back to tie the score through the efforts of a talented offense and an aggressive punt rush with under four minutes remaining.

After averaging 35.3 points a game, the Seminoles were held to just 10 points through three quarters until noseguard Lenny Chavers blocked a Chip Andrews punt which was picked up by teammate Joe Wessel for a Seminole touchdown. Darrin Holloman's sweep around the left side gave FSU a two-point conversion and knotted the game at 17 late in the fourth quarter. The Dogs tried to repeat the miracle they had staged earlier in the season against rival Clemson in which they drove up field in the closing seconds enabling All-American Kevin Butler to kick a conference record 60-yard FG and secure a Georgia victory. FSU's defense proved to be a bit stiffer than that of Clemson, and after three incomplete James Jackson passes, Georgia coach Vince Dooley called on Butler once again, but his kick fell just short of the crossbar and the game ended deadlocked at 17.

Although disappointed with a tie, Georgia walked off the field encouraged by the play of their underclassmen. Freshman QB James Jackson saw his first stretch of extensive playing time and responded by earning the game's Most Valuable Player trophy. The game's most valuable offensive player was another Georgia freshman, TB Lars Tate, who scored both of Georgia's TD's. Senior CB Kevin Harris was awarded Defensive Player of the Game, giving the red and black a clean sweep of the awards ceremony.

Dogs, Wildcats Tie 13-13 In 1985 Sun Bowl Game

A Sun Bowl crowd of 52,203 saw the Georgia Bulldogs rally for 10 fourth quarter points to pull even with the Arizona Wildcats, 13-13, then watched as both teams miss potential game-winning field goals in the final two minutes to preserve the tie.

Georgia struck first, marching 72 yards in 13 plays to set up a 37-yard FG by Steve Crumley. Crumley, who had pulled a muscle in his kicking leg before the final game of the regular season, reinjured himself on the kick, however, and was unable to continue.

Arizona responded on the following possession to tie the game, driving to the G1 before an illegal procedure penalty on fourth down forced the Cats to call upon All-American Max Zendejas to tie the score at three from 21 yards.Zendejas added a 52-yarder, and the the Wildcats made it 12-3 when Martin Rudolph picked off QB James Jackson's pass and returned it 35 yards for a TD. Georgia backup kicker Davis Jacobs was true on a 44-yard field to close the gap to 13-6.

With 12:35 to play senior DB Tony Flack recovered RB James Debow's fumble at the A23 to set up what would be the game's last score behind Tate on the ground. With 1:14 left, Jacobs missed a 44-yard field goal.

Georgia held Arizona until the Wildcats gambled on fourth-and-two from their own 36, and David Adams rambled for 25 yards on a draw play with DL Henry Williams executing a game-saving tackle at the G39. The Wildcats drove to the 22, called time out, and Zendejas' 39-yard attempt went wide and Georgia averted a last-second defeat.

B.C. Edges Dogs 27-24 In 1986 Hall of Fame

Boston College scored a five-yard TD pass with 32 seconds remaining to nip Georgia, 27-24, in the first Hall of Fame Bowl held at Tampa on Dec. 22, 1986, in front of 25,368 in Tampa Stadium.

The last second win spoiled a brilliant comeback from a 13-point halftime deficit by Georgia which actually took the lead, 24-20, with a five-yard TD run by QB James Jackson with 11:51 left in the game.

The Bulldogs, after scoring first to lead 7-0, watched Boston College score 20 straight points before halftime.

Georgia came out in the third quarter to score 10 points and added another seven in the final period to take the lead. B.C. got the ball the final time with 2:38 left and drove to the Georgia 27 when an incomplete fourth-and-two pass appeared to have iced the game for the Dogs. But a pass interference penalty gave the Eagles new life and three plays later, they scored on a five-yard TD toss.

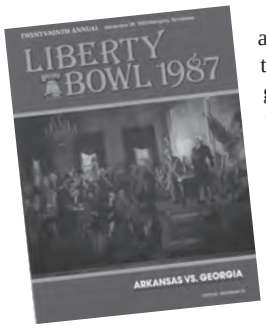
Kasay Kick Defeats Arkansas In 1987 Liberty Bowl



Freshman placekicker John Kasay booted a 39-yard field goal with no time left on the clock to give Georgia a 20-17 come-from-behind victory over the Arkansas Razorbacks before 53,249 fans at Liberty Bowl Stadium in Memphis, Tenn. on Dec. 29, 1987. The victory provided Georgia with its first nine-win season since 1983 and the first victory ever over Arkansas after two previous attempts.

Bulldog QB James Jackson was the Georgia most valuable offensive player after rushing for 72 yards and completing 15 of 25 passes for 148 yards. Bulldog LB John Brantley was the Georgia most valuable defensive player.

Kasay's game-winning kick was set up when Georgia cornerback Carver Russaw intercepted an Arkansas pass and ran it back to the Razorback 43-yard line with 46 seconds to play. Arkansas had missed a 35-yard field goal with 1:42 left which would have given them the lead. The Bulldogs ran three plays to set up Kasay's, kick the big one being a Jackson-to -Sadowski pass for 16 yards to put the Dogs in field goal range.

Georgia had trailed at halftime, 10-7, and Arkansas took the second half kickoff and drove for a touchdown to take a 17-7 lead with 11:35 left in the third period. But the fourth quarter belonged to Georgia.

Kasay kicked a 24-yard FG with 14:57 left to cut the lead to 17-10, and James Jackson scored on a five-yard run to tie the score at 17.

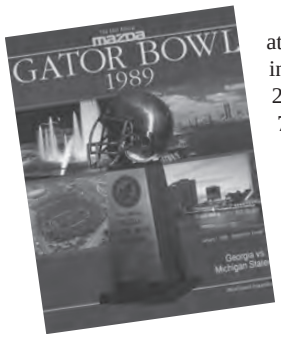
Dogs Use New Tricks To Win 1989 Gator Bowl



Largely discarding their trademark rushing attack, Vince Dooley's Bulldogs took to the air in the 44th Mazda Gator Bowl en route to a 34-27 victory over the Michigan State in front of 76,236 fans in Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 1, 1989.

Georgia not only secured its second straight 9-win season but handed Dooley the 201st, and final, win of his illustrious 25-year coaching career. QB Wayne Johnson, who was named Georgia's MVP for the game, had a career-high 227 yards and three touchdowns. Two of Johnson's three TD strikes went to tailback Rodney Hampton, who also carried the ball 10 times for 109 yards and a TD.

Georgia took a 7-0 lead on a 6-yard Johnson-to-Hampton touchdown pass. By halftime, the Dogs led 17-7. Georgia scored again in the third when Johnson capped a 64-yard drive with an 18-yard pass to tight end Kirk Warner.

MSU closed the gap to 27-20 with 14:24 to play, but the Dogs countered on their next possession when Hampton raced 32 yards for his third touchdown. The Spartans scored once more, but Georgia, which finished the season ranked 15th, hung on for a 34-27 win.

Syracuse Nips Georgia 19-18 To Win '89 Peach

With :25 left in the game, Syracuse PK John Biskup booted a 26-yard field goal to lift the Orangemen over the Bulldogs, 19-18, in Atlanta at the 22nd Peach Bowl on Dec. 30, 1989.

Despite putting together an impressive opening drive and coming up with several big plays, the Dogs couldn't sustain a balanced offensive attack throughout the game. Georgia's leading rusher Rodney Hampton was held to 32 yards on the ground, while Syracuse TB Michael Owens ran for 112 yards on 14 carries. The Georgia passing attack was limited to 88 yards, the first time all season the Dogs were held under 100 yards in the air.

Georgia opened the game with a 66-yard drive, capped off by a 5-yard TD pass from QB Greg Talley to tight end Kirk Warner. Syracuse answered with an 80-yard drive of its own, with Owens scoring from one yard out.

In the second quarter, Syracuse suffered from three miscues, but managed to stay close. The first came when Georgia linebacker Mo Lewis set a new Peach Bowl record with a 77-yard interception return to the Syracuse five. The Bulldogs were unable to get into the end zone, however, and had to settle for a John Kasay field goal. In the second half, the Orangemen gave up a safety, and Georgia added a TD for an 18-10 edge going to the fourth.

Syracuse rallied, first with a 94-yards drive to close to 18--16. Then, Biskup's field goal lifted the Orange over Georgia in the closest Peach Bowl since 1973.

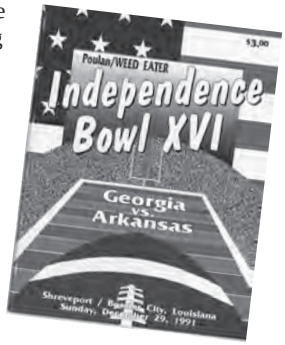
Georgia Beats Arkansas 24-15 In '91 Independence



Georgia completed the 1991 phase of "Operation Turnaround" by beating the Arkansas Razorbacks 24-15 in front of 46, 932 fans and an ABC-TV national television audience in the 1991 Independence Bowl.

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 14-0 lead behind two scoring strikes thrown from Eric Zeier to Arthur Marshall and Andre Hastings stretching their lead to 17-0 on a 39-yard FG by freshman Kanon Parkman.

The Razorbacks battled back and got on the scoreboard with a 7-yard run by the Hogs' leading rusher, E.D. Jackson. The run capped off an eight-play 37-yard drive by the Razorbacks.

The second half continued to be a showcase for the play of Hastings and Zeier and the ball-hawking Georgia defense led by junior linebacker Torrey Evans.

Georgia's defense forced Arkansas quarterback Jason Allen into throwing five interceptions. Evans came off the bench for the injured John Allen and played brilliantly, recording four tackles, an interception and fumble recovery to earn defensive MVP honors.

The game's offensive MVP, Hastings caught four passes for 94 yards and outran all pursuers on a third quarter 53-yard reverse that put the Bulldogs out front 24-7. The Hogs added eight points in the fourth quarter, but it was too late, the Bulldogs had won the Independence Bowl.

Dogs Beat Ohio State in 1993 Florida Citrus Bowl

Georgia secured its best finish in a decade, including a top-10 final ranking and the first 10-win season since 1983, with a 21-14 victory over Ohio State. A New Year's Day crowd of 65,861 attended the 47th annual Florida Citrus Bowl.

Offensively, Georgia found ball control to its liking in the first quarter as it opened the game with its longest touchdown drive of the season. The Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 14 plays, grinding up 6:18 on the game clock, to take a 7-0 lead. Georgia then opened it up in the second quarter, calling for passes on five of its first eight plays. An Eric Zeier fumble just inside OSU territory proved costly as the Buckeyes drove 54 yards to paydirt in 11 plays for a 7-7 halftime tie.

Following the break, Andre Hastings ignited the Dogs' offense on the opening kickoff of the second half with a spectacular 49-yard return. Then from the OSU 45, Garrison Hearst gained all 45 yards on four carries en route to a 14-7 Bulldog advantage. But following a short punt by Georgia which the Buckeyes returned to the UGA 33, Ohio State seized the opportunity and tied the game again, 14-14, on a five-yard run by Robert Smith.

Slowly, the Buckeyes had taken control of the game's momentum and after a 45-yard completion to Smith to the UGA 15, it appeared Ohio State would take its first lead of the game. But quarterback Kirk Herbstreit fumbled, and the Bulldogs drove 80 yards in 11 plays to take the victory. A final Buckeye drive ended with a desperation pass intercepted in the endzone, and Georgia had earned its best season in a decade.

Virginia Rallies For 34-27 Win In 1995 Peach Bowl

At the Peach Bowl, two of the nation's most fatestruck teams took to Atlanta's Georgia Dome in search of season-ending consola tion. Although the Bulldogs entered the contest as underdogs, Georgia again battled back from adversity, this time a 14-0 deficit with 4:09 left in the first quarter, only to lose in the closing minute. Virginia's Demetrius Allen proved the difference, returning a Kanon Parkman kickoff for an 83-yard TD with :57 remaining.

Sophomore QB Hines Ward engineered the Georgia comeback, lighting up the Cavalier secondary for 413 yards on 31 of 59 passing. Figure in another 56 yards rushing, and Ward had set new Georgia bowl records for pass attempts, completions, yards passing and total offense. However, a pair of first-quarter interceptions and a blocked Dax Langley punt led to an easy 14 points for Virginia and considerable red and black frustration.

Once again, Georgia's defense kept the team's hope alive. Besides limiting Virginia to 256 yards total offense, the UGA "D" even gave the 70,824 audience a temporary charge when defensive tackle Jason Ferguson returned UVA's Walt Derey fumble 10 yards for a TD—Georgia's first tie of the game (27-27) with only 1:09 left.

Bobo, Edwards Lead UGA Past Badgers in '98 Outback Bowl

Mike Bobo completed 26 of 28 passes for 235 yards and one touchdown and running back Robert Edwards ran for three more touchdowns as Georgia defeated Wisconsin 33-6 before an Outback Bowl crowd of 56,186 and an ESPN national television audience.

Bobo, who earned MVP honors, set an Outback Bowl record for best completion percentage (92.8). He also set Outback and Georgia records for consecutive completions with 19. Edwards set a Georgia bowl mark and tied an Outback record with three rushing touchdowns. Senior Hines Ward set an Outback Bowl record for receptions and yardage with 12 catches for 122 yards.

Georgia sported a new look for the Outback Bowl, donning black pants instead of the traditional "silver britches" to go along with the Bulldogs' white jerseys and red helmets. "The players came to me a while back and requested we do something special for the bowl game," Georgia head coach Jim Donnan said. "The idea the players liked best was wearing black pants. After discussing it with (athletic director) Coach Dooley we decided to go along with the players' suggestion for this game."

Georgia Rallies Past Virginia In 1998 Peach Bowl

No. 19 Georgia rallied from an early second-quarter deficit of 21-0 to post a thrilling 35-33 win over 12th-ranked Virginia. A Peach Bowl record crowd of 72,876 in Atlanta on Dec. 31, 1998 was in attendance for the memorable comeback.

Virginia capitalized on three second quarter interceptions by Georgia freshman Quincy Carter, turning each of them into a touchdown to build a 21-0 lead. Georgia got on the scoreboard when Carter connected with senior Tony Small on an 11-yard score with 1:15 left in the second quarter.

Georgia got its first lead of the night when Olandis Gary capped a 67-yard drive with a 2-yard run on the Dogs' first possession of the fourth quarter. The Bulldogs then built an 8-point lead when Carter called his own number on a quarterback sneak from the one-yard-line with 7:01 remaining.

Georgia staved off the Cavaliers late by stopping a 2-point conversion and then watching as their last-ditch field goal sailed wide left with just 19 seconds remaining.

Record Comeback Highlights '00 Outback Win over Purdue

Georgia kicked off the new year by staging the largest comeback in bowl history, scoring 28 unanswered points to defeat Purdue 28-25 in overtime at Raymond James Stadium in front of 54,059 in a game broadcast by ESPN.

Purdue jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter behind three Drew Brees touchdown passes. In the second quarter Brees threw his fourth touchdown pass to Chris James. Purdue missed three of the four extra point opportunities to lead 25-0 with 10:38 left in the first half.

Georgia got its first points of the game on a Terrence Edwards 74-yard touchdown run off an option reverse to cut the lead to 25-7. Quincy Carter, who had 243 yards on 20 of 33 passing with two touchdowns (one rushing, one passing), helped continue the Georgia surge when he scored on an eight-yard run with 4:22 left in the third quarter. Patrick Pass made the two-point conversion to move the score to 25-18.

The Bulldogs tied the score at 25 with just 1:19 left in regulation, when Randy McMichael caught a Carter pass over two defenders for an eight-yard touchdown. In overtime, Georgia managed to stop Purdue on its first drive when Dorsch missed a 43-yard field goal. After two Pass rushes for 19 yards, Hap Hines nailed a 21-yarder to cap the Bulldogs' come from behind victory.

Georgia Cruises Past Virginia In 2000 O'ahu Bowl

Terrence Edwards

The 24th-ranked Georgia Bulldogs (8-4) defeated Virginia 34-17 in the 2000 Jeep O'ahu Bowl in front of an Aloha Stadium crowd of 24,187 and an ESPN television audience on Christmas Eve.

Georgia jumped out to a 17-0 lead in the first quarter. The Bulldogs got on the board with a 35-yard field goal by freshman kicker Billy Bennett. On the Bulldogs' next series, one play after a successful fake punt, Edwards scampered 40 yards into the end zone on a reverse to give Georgia a 10-0 lead. On Virginia's next possession, freshman safety Kentrell Curry recovered a Cavalier fumble in the end zone for the 17-0 lead.

The Cavaliers pulled within 24-14 in the third quarter as senior linebacker Byron Thweatt returned a Georgia fumble 58 yards, but that was as close as Virginia would get. Georgia added two more touchdowns for the final margin, a 21-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Cory Phillips to freshman receiver Damien Gary and a four-yard fumble return by sophomore safety Cap Burnett after senior linebacker Kendrell Bell knocked the ball loose.

Edwards was named MVP after leading UGA in both receiving and rushing with eight catches for 79 yards and five rushes for 97 yards and one touchdown.

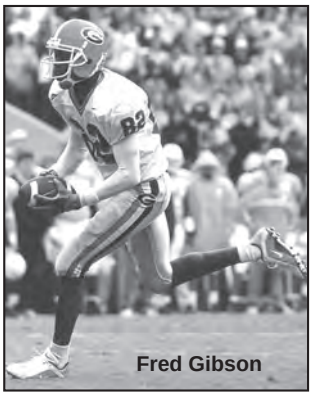
Eagles Edge Dogs In 2001 Music City Bowl



Fred Gibson

Running back William Green scored a 7-yard touchdown with 4:43 remaining to lift Boston College to a 20-16 win over Georgia at the Music City Bowl.

Running back Verron Haynes capped his Georgia career with 132 yards on 27 carries, including a 1-yard scoring run in the third quarter. That touchdown gave the Bulldogs a 16-10 lead.

The Bulldogs began the game with some trickery when Fred Gibson took the opening kickoff and gave a reverse handoff to Decory Bryant, who raced 86 yards to the Boston College 18. On Georgia's second play, Greene found Gibson on a swing pass and he fought his way into the end zone from 15 yards out.

Boston College grabbed the lead in the second quarter when quarterback Brian St. Pierre threw a 10-yard touchdown pass to receiver Dedrick Dewalt. The play was set up by Green's 75-yard run, the longest play allowed by the Bulldogs this season.

Sciortino then converted from 26 yards out to give the Eagles a 13-7 lead. The Bulldogs answered with Bennett's 24-yard field goal as Georgia trailed 13-10 at the break. Haynes' third-quarter touchdown gave the Bulldogs their final lead of the contest.

2003 Dogs Gets Record 13th Win In Nokia Sugar Bowl

Georgia bowl MVP Musa Smith rushed for 145 yards and Billy Bennett kicked four field goals as Georgia defeated Florida State 26-13 before 74,269 fans in the Nokia Sugar Bowl. Georgia completed the season at 13-1, the most wins in school history.

The Bulldogs' defense forced three turnovers by the Seminoles, including cornerback Bruce Thornton's 71-yard interception return for a touchdown. Nose tackle Ken Veal's fumble recovery led to one of Bennett's four field goals.

Bennett staked the Bulldogs to a 3-0 lead in the first quarter . The Seminoles took their only lead of the game in the second quarter as quarterback Fabian Walker found receiver Anquan Boldin on a 5-yard scoring toss. Thornton's second-quarter interception and score gave Georgia the lead for good.

Bennett pushed the advantage to 20-7 by drilling a 42-yard field goal early in the third quarter. On FSU's next possession, Veal's fumble recovery set up Bennett's third field goal, pushing Georgia ahead 23-7.

Georgia Defeats Purdue in OT In 2004 Capital One Bowl

After scoring the game's first 24 points, Georgia needed a Kregg Lumpkin overtime touchdown run to hold off Purdue, 34-27, in front of a Capital One Bowl crowd of 64,565 and an ABC national television audience.

The Bulldogs opened the game with a nine-play, 68-yard drive culminating in a six-yard Fred Gibson touchdown pass from quarterback and offensive MVP David Greene (left). The Bulldogs used a Billy Bennett field goal and two more Greene TD passes--one each to Gibson and Reggie Brown--to open a 24-0 lead with 4:47 left in the first half.

Purdue answered with a touchdown and field goal to pull within 14, 24-10, at halftime.

Purdue scored the fourth quarter's first points on a Kyle Orton two-yard run with 9:11 left. Georgia then used up 4:44 on a 12-play, 57-yard drive ending in a 40-yard Bennett field goal. Late in the fourth, Purdue needed just three plays to go 66 yards and pull within three, 27-24, on a Kyle Orton three-yard touchdown pass. Ben Jones kicked a 44-yard field goal with 49 seconds left to tie the game at 27-all.

On the first possession of overtime, Kregg Lumpkin pushed his way into the end zone to give the Bulldogs a 34-27 lead. Purdue also drove inside the 10 yard line, but failed to convert.

Bulldogs Beat Badgers In 2005 Outback Bowl

Georgia (10-2) held off a late Wisconsin rally to defeat the Badgers 24-21 in front of 62,414 Outback Bowl fans at Raymond James Stadium and an ESPN national television audience.

It was the last game for several Bulldog seniors, including All-American DE David Pollack (right) whose three-sack performance earned him Outback Bowl MVP.

Overall, Georgia's defense stifled the Badgers' offense, allowing just 13 points while recording seven quarterback sacks and forcing and recovering two fumbles.

Wisconsin (9-3) took an early second-quarter 6-3 lead in a battle of field goals, but Georgia's offense came to life in the middle of the game. Senior QB David Greene connected on a 24-yard touchdown to Fred Gibson and later a 24-yard TD to senior Jeremy Thomas.

Freshman Thomas Brown notched his fourth 100-yard rushing game of the year with 111 yards on 16 carries, including a 29-yard touchdown run to give Georgia a 24-6 lead.

West Virginia Upsets Dogs In '06 Nokia Sugar Bowl

Georgia was unable to overcome a 28-0 deficit and fell to West Virginia 38-35 in the 2006 Nokia Sugar Bowl in front of 74,458 fans at the Georgia Dome and an ABC national television audience.

Despite three touchdowns and 277 yards passing by quarterback D.J. Shockley, the Bulldogs' late rally fell short after they outscored the Mountaineers 35-10 to finish the game. Tailback Thomas Brown (right) led Georgia with 78 yards rushing, including a 52-yard touchdown.

West Virginia started the game's scoring with three touchdowns in the first quarter and went up 28-0 with 14:10 remaining in the second quarter. Georgia got its first points at the 12:58 mark in the second quarter on Kregg Lumpkin's career-long 34-yard touchdown run.

The Bulldogs managed to close the gap to 38-35 after Shockley connected with fellow senior Bryan McClendon for a 43-yard touchdown with 5:13 left in the fourth quarter. But West Virginia converted a fake punt in the game's final drive, enabling the Mountaineers to run the clock out.

Bulldogs Rally Past Va. Tech In 2006 Chick-fil-A Bowl

Georgia stormed back from an 18-point deficit to defeat 14th-ranked Virginia Tech 31-24 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in the Georgia Dome in front of a bowl-record crowd of 75,406 and a national ESPN television audience.

Bulldog linebacker Tony Taylor (two interceptions) and quarterback Matthew Stafford (129 yards, 1 TD) were named the Defensive and Offensive MVPs. In the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs got scoring runs from tailback Kregg Lumpkin and fullback Brannan Southerland along with one of kicker Brandon Coutu's three field goals (including a Georgia bowl record 51-yarder) to complete the comeback.

Georgia led 3-0 after the first quarter, but then the Hokies built a 21-3 halftime edge. Taylor's interception at the start of the fourth quarter set up the game-tying touchdown, a 3-yard Lumpkin run. On the Hokies' next possession, Charles Johnson sacked Sean Glennon and caused him to fumble, which Quentin Moses recovered. It led to the go-ahead field goal by Coutu.

Bulldogs Blast Hawai'i To Win 2008 Sugar Bowl

The Bulldogs trounced previously undefeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the Sugar Bowl on New Years night from the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans, La. This was the most points the Bulldogs have ever scored in a bowl game as well as their largest margin of victory in a bowl game.

Georgia struck early against the Warriors, starting with a Knowshon Moreno 17-yard touchdown run with 9:42 in the first quarter. Moreno also had an 11-yard scoring run late in the first period.

Early in the second half, defensive end Marcus Howard sacked Warrior quarterback Colt Brennan on the goal line and recovered Brennan's fumble on the play for a TD, the first of his career. Thomas Brown got in on the scoring action with a one-yard scamper in the third quarter, and QB Matthew Stafford got into the books with an 11-yard TD pass to Sean Bailey midway through the second quarter.

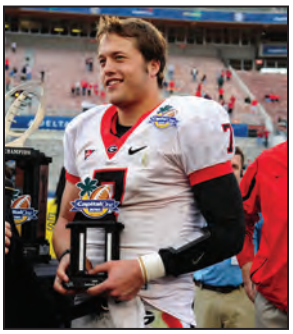
Bulldogs Notch 10th Win At 2009 Capital One Bowl



Matthew Stafford threw three touchdown passes in the final 18 minutes against Michigan State, as the Bulldogs posted a 24-12 Capital One Bowl victory in front of 59,681 fans and an ABC national television audience.

The first half was ugly for Stafford, projected to be an early first-round NFL draft pick, and Georgia. He was just 6-for-14 with an interception in the first half and Michigan State (9-4) led 6-3. In the second half, he looked more like the quarterback NFL teams covet. He completed 14 of his final 17 throws, including three TD passes.

Stafford started the comeback by directing a 10-play, 96-yard drive midway through the third quarter. He went 6-for-6 for 92 yards and capped it with a 35-yard touchdown toss to Michael Moore. Stafford and Aron White hooked up on a 21-yard TD toss with 9 seconds left in the third quarter to put Georgia up 17-6.

Dogs Defeat Texas A&M For Independence Bowl Win

Georgia closed out the 2009 football season in dominant fashion as it defeated Texas A&M 44-20 in the AdvoCare V100 Independence Bowl in front of 49,653 fans in Shreveport, La.

After the Aggies tied the game early in the third quarter, Georgia scored 30 unanswered points to win with relative ease. The 44 points was a Bulldog bowl record.

Neither team scored until the final 2:33 of the second quarter, when Georgia followed an A&M touchdown with two quick scores before halftime, highlighted by Brandon Boykin's kickoff return.

A 49-yard field goal by Blair Walsh with 9:25 left in the third quarter gave Georgia the lead for good and started the string of 30 consecutive points.

Georgia's defense, coached by defensive line coach Rodney Garner and graduate assistants Mitch Doolittle and Todd Hartley, was led by sophomore linebacker Marcus Dowtin, who had nine tackles. Junior linebacker Rennie Curran had eight, and junior safety Reshad Jones had five tackles and an interception.

No. 24 UCF Edges Bulldogs In 2010 Liberty Bowl

Georgia saw its four-game bowl winning streak by dropping a 10-6 decision to #24 Central Florida in the AutoZone Liberty Bowl, marking Georgia's first postseason loss since the 2006 Sugar Bowl.

UCF's Latavius Murray scored on a 10-yard touchdown run with 9:01 left, and the Knights were able to stave off Georgia to post the victory. The Bulldogs had the ball last and converted two fourth downs before Kemal Ishmael knocked down Aaron Murray's final throw into the end zone as time expired.

The Bulldogs also started both halves driving down field easily before bogging down and settling for field goals of 20 and 41 yards by Blair Walsh. These teams went to halftime tied at 3-3 after a first half in which both Georgia and UCF wasted chances at the end zone.

No. 12 MSU Rallies Past Bulldogs In 2012 Outback Bowl

Georgia dropped a 33-30 decision to Michigan State in a thrilling three-overtime game in the Outback Bowl in front of 49,429 fans and a nationally televised ABC audience.

Bulldog junior Tavarres King set a school-record with 205 yards receiving on six catches, including a career-long 80-yard TD. Defensive back Brandon Boykin, who was named the MVP of the game, forced a safety, returned a punt 92 yards for a TD and scored on a 13-yard run.

With 2:06 left, MSU quarterback Kirk Cousins led a 10-play 85-yard drive that tied the game at 27-27 to send it into overtime. After an interception by Bacarri Rambo on MSU's first possession, Georgia senior Blair Walsh missed a 42-yard field goal to send it to another overtime. Both teams exchanged field goals in the second OT. The Spartans opened the third OT with a field goal that gave them a 33-30 lead. Georgia had a chance to tie it again, but its 47-yard field goal attempt was blocked, sealing the win for the Spartans.

Bulldogs Defeat Nebraska In 2013 Capital One Bowl

No. 5 Georgia handed the 21st-ranked Nebraska Cornhuskers a 45-31 loss in front of 59,712 fans and a nationally televised ABC audience in the Capital One Bowl.

On the second Georgia drive of the game, Aaron Murray led the Bulldogs on an 80-yard drive that was capped off by a 29-yard completion to Arthur Lynch.

Nebraska answered with a pair of TDs to take a 14-9 lead, but the lead didn't last, as Todd Gurley rushed for a 24-yard TD. The Huskers responded with a six-play, 44-yard drive that resulted in a 39-yard field goal that made it a 23-17 game midway through the second quarter. After a Georgia three-and-out, Nebraska took a 24-23 lead on a 16-yard pass to Rex Burkhead.

On the opening drive of the second half, Nebraska scored on a two-yard TD run by Burkhead that extended Nebraska's lead to 31-23. Georgia answered on the following drive with a 49-yard touchdown grab by Chris Conley. Georgia scored TDs on its next two possessions to take a 45-31 lead and seal the bowl victory.

Nebraska Holds On For 2014 TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl Win

No. 23 Georgia Bulldogs sustained a 24-19 loss to Nebraska in the TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl in front of 60,712 fans and a national ESPN audience.

After a scoreless first quarter, Hutson Mason led Georgia on an 12-play, 38-yard drive that resulted in a Marshall Morgan 39-yard field goal. Nebraska, however, took advantage of a fumbled punt return by the Bulldogs to take a 7-3 lead with 9:05 left in the second quarter. The teams traded field goals to complete first-half scoring with the Huskers holding a 10-9 edge.

Nebraska forged ahead 24-12 by scoring touchdowns on its first two possessions of the second half. The latter came on a 99-yard pass from Tommy Armstrong, Jr. to Quincy Enunwa with 4:58 left in the third quarter.

Georgia scored its first touchdown of the game at the start of the fourth quarter when Hutson Mason passed for 25 yards to Todd Gurley. Then late in the fourth quarter, the Bulldogs looked to take the lead late, twice driving inside the Nebraska 20. Georgia was unable to convert on either fourth down, however, allowing Nebraska to come away with the victory.

Chubb, Bulldogs Power Past Louisville in 2014 Belk Bowl

Nick Chubb
Belk Bowl MVP

Nick Chubb rushed for a UGA-bowl record 266 yards to propel No. 13 Georgia past 20th-ranked Louisville 37-14 in front of a crowd of 45,671 and a nationally-televised ESPN audience in the Belk Bowl at Bank of America Stadium in Charlotte, N.C.

Georgia struck first, taking a 7-0 lead on a nine-play, 60-yard drive in the first quarter. On 2nd-and-14, Hutson Mason connected with Chris Conley for a 45-yard touchdown that gave the Bulldogs a 7-0 lead after the Marshall Morgan PAT.

The Cardinals answered on the next drive, going 84 yards on nine plays to tie the game at 7-7. Gerald Christian scored the TD on an 11-yard pass from Kyle Bolin.

Already leading 20-7 at halftime, Georgia broke the game open late in the third quarter. Chubb's 82-yard run, starting at his own 3-yard line, paved the way for Sony Michel to score from two yards out with 5:41 left. After UL answered with a score, the Bulldogs put the game out of reach in the fourth period with a Morgan field goal and an 8-yard TD run by Chubb.

Although the University of Georgia is now known as the home of Uga, the pure white English bulldog, several mascots led the Red and Black before Frank W. Seiler provided the current lineage beginning in 1956.

The Goat -- Feb. 22, 1892

Georgia's mascot for its first football game against Auburn, February 22, 1892 in Atlanta, Ga., was a goat. Old newspaper clippings indicate that the goat wore a black coat with red U.G. letters on each side. He also had on a hat with ribbons all down his high horns, and the Auburn fans yelled throughout the game "shoot the billy-goat."

Trilby, 1894

Trilby with owner Charles H. Black

In 1894, Georgia's mascot was a solid white female bull terrier owned by a student, Charles H. Black, Sr., of Atlanta. Trilby, named after a novel by George Du Maurier, served as the campus pet and mascot for the Chi Phi fraternity.

Disputing stories speculate the origin of the Bulldog nickname, and the story of Trilby provides yet another opinion: "...every day Trilby took herself down to old Herty field with her master for football practice. She ran signals with the best of them and became an accustomed figure on the athletic field...One morning, Trilby failed to appear for her breakfast and after a frantic search she was finally discovered proudly washing the faces of her newborn family, 13 white puppies...Late one dusky fall afternoon, Trilby appeared for a grid workout and scampering after her came her 13 children, darting through players' legs, barking and pace. 'Well,' suggested one of the players, 'Trilby has brought us a name, Bulldogs.' ...Every time a game was played on Herty Field, the boys would floss Trilby and her 13 offerings up with red and black ribbons, and so attired they have gone down in history as perhaps the first 'sponsors' in southern football." —Ruth Stanton Cogill (Atlanta newspaper)

"After the rein of Trilby and her family, chaos developed in the mascot department at the university. Many games had several, depending on which alumnus got his dog to the game first." —AJC, Nov. 18, 1962

Sanford Stadium Graves

Mr. Angel, 1944-46

Mr. Angel

Mr. Angel, a brindle and white colored English Bulldog owned by Eastman,Ga.,physician, Warren Coleman, filled a void during some of the war years.

There was no mascot roaming the sidelines and Coleman took Mr. Angel to games and stood with him on the sidelines. His picture on the field and with the Georgia cheerleaders appears in the 1945 and '46 UGA annual, the Pandora.

Butch, 1947-50

Butch was a brindled English bulldog owned by Mabry Smith of Warner Robins, Ga. He was spotted by students who were attending the 1946 Georgia-Georgia Tech game in Athens, and the canine appeared to be suited for the mascot position. Smith agreed to loan Butch to the University during the football season along with a female puppy named Tuffy. The female died of a heart attack following the Georgia-Kentucky game in 1948, but Butch continued to serve. Spending the off-season at Smith's home in Warner Robins, Butch was tragically shot in the summer of 1951 by a policeman after the dog escaped from his pen and was found roaming the streets. Butch is buried behind Smith's business along Watson Boulevard.

In 2004 plans for a marker honoring Butch in his hometown were put into motion by longtime Warner Robins resident Guy Fussell.

Bronze statue of Mike

Mike, 1951-55

Butch was succeeded by Mike, another brindled English bulldog, owned by C. L. Fain. Mike lived in the field house on campus and died of natural canine causes in 1955. As his master's thesis, Gene Owens of Fort Worth, Texas, cast the bronze statue of Mike which is located at the entrance of Memorial Hall.

Uga Takes the Field

In the last 100 years of intercollegiate football, Georgia's Uga has established himself as the nation's most well-known mascot. The line of pure white English bulldogs, which epitomizes everything Georgia, has been owned by the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah, Ga., since Uga I first graced the campus in 1956.

Through the years, Uga has been defined by his spiked collar, a symbol of the position which he holds. He was given his name, an abbreviation for the university, by William Young of Columbus, a law school classmate of Seiler. Each of the Uga mascots is awarded a varsity letter in the form of a plaque, identical to those presented to all Bulldog athletes who letter in their respective sports.

As determined and published by the Pittsburgh Press, the University of Georgia is the only major college that actually buries its mascots within the confines of the stadium. Ugas I, II, III, IV and V are buried in marble vaults near the main gate in the embankment of the South stands. Epitaphs to the dogs are inscribed in bronze, and before each home game, flowers are placed on their graves. The memorial plot attracts hundreds of fans and visitors each year.

For the past 20 years, Uga's jerseys have been custom-made at the beginning of each season from the same material used for the players' jerseys. Old jerseys are destroyed.

Uga's on-field home is a permanent air conditioned doghouse located next to the cheerleader's platform, providing comfort in the heat of August and September. The custom-made doghouse is a gift from the Bahamian Bulldog Club of Nassau, Bahamas, through the courtesy of Fred Hazlewood.

Uga I, 1956-66
"Hood's Ole Dan"
Record: 53-48-6

Uga I with Hannah Jones

The current Uga line of solid white English bulldogs began with Uga I, Hood's Ole Dan, born Dec. 2, 1955, in Columbus. Uga I was given to Cecelia Seiler by a friend, Frank Heard of Columbus and appeared in his first game in the 1956 home opener. As recalled by Sonny Seiler, "...his original red jerseys were made by Cecelia. It was necessary to take up children's t-shirts to fit the dog in the right places. There is no telling how many of these jersey's he wore out. During the early games in Athens, especially the hot ones before he had a dog house, the large green hedges that surround Sanford Stadium afford welcomed shade in the heat of battle. Unfortunately, the hedges constantly tore these jerseys and new ones had to be made."

epitaph: Damn Good Dog

Uga II with Ann DeLong

Uga I was succeeded by his son, Ole Dan's Uga at an impressive pregame ceremony at Homecoming, 1966. With the Georgia Redcoat Band lining the field, Uga II was led to the center of the field by Charles Seiler, son of Sonny and Cecelia. The student body erupted in a cheer that was picked up by the entire stadium, ''Damn Good Dog!''

Uga II had an impressive reign as he watched Georgia participate in five bowl games and win two SEC championships.

Uga III, 1972-80
"Seiler's Uga Three"
Record: 71-32-2

Uga III

Born Oct. 9, 1972, Seiler's Uga III was present for Georgia football's finest moment as Herschel Walker took the Bulldogs to the 1980 national championship. He led Georgia to six bowl games in nine years and closed out his career in ultimate fashion winning the 1980 NCAA championship. Uga III retired on the 100th football game of his career, marking the season-opener of the 1981 season. He died just weeks later.

Uga IV, 1981-89
"Seiler's Uga Four"
Record: 77-27-4

Uga IV with Marty Argo

Uga IV was perhaps the most active of all the Georgia mascots, standing as the only one to attend a bowl game every year of his service (1981-89). He took over for Uga III in the 1981 season opener and over the next nine seasons, led Georgia to a record of 77-27-4. The highlight of his career was his personal appearance at the Heisman Trophy Banquet with Herschel Walker in New York on December 9, 1982. Uga IV was escorted through thebanquet hall by the president of the Downtown Athletic Club, and was earlier photographed with Herschel by photographers from across the country. The proud Bulldog donned his game jersey for the outing and added the formal touch of a collar and black tie. Uga IV was the first mascot invited to the Heisman Banquet.Declared ''Dog of the Decade'' by Vince Dooley in 1991, Uga IV was posthumously awarded the highest honor available to University of Georgia mascots — the Georgia varsity letter.

Otto, 1986
"The Substitute"
Record: 3-1

Otto

Although Otto was not pure white like his father, he was called upon to fill in for his younger brother, Uga IV, who injured ligaments in his left hind knee when jumping off a hotel bed before the Vanderbilt contest. In four games during the 1986 season, Otto led the team to a 3-1 record and also co-mascotted (along with Uga IV), a victory over in-state rival Georgia Tech. After winning his first two games, fans cheered, "2-and-0 with Otto!" Dooley, serving as head coach during Otto's brief tenure, favored the substitute the most. "I have always had a great affection for those who came off the bench and performed, and he did that and had a great time," Dooley said. Otto is buried in the Seiler's backyard.

Uga V, 1990-99
"UGA IV's Magillicuddy II"
Record: 65-39-1

In the first game of 1990, Uga V officially began his reign as the Georgia mascot, taking over from his father Uga IV, who passed away at his home in Savannah on Feb. 26, 1990. Uga V was the last pup sired by Uga IV and was born on March 6, 1990.

Named in honor of one of the greatest Bulldogs, Dan Magill, former Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations and longtime tennis coach and sports information director. Surprisingly, the Seiler family became aware that Uga IV's mate was expecting only 10 days before the litter was due. This notice came a week after Uga IV had passed away at his home in Savannah from kidney failure. There were only three pups in the litter and the last one born on March 6 was the only solid white male.

Uga V had been perhaps the most well known of all the Bulldog mascots, highlighted by his appearance on the cover of the April 28, 1997, Sports Illustrated which declared him the nation's best college mascot. Rocketed to stardom, he also appeared in Clint Eastwood's "Midnight In The Garden Of Good And Evil" — filmed in his hometown of Savannah, Ga. He died on Nov. 22, 1999, just over two months after his retirement.

Uga VI, 1999-2008
"Uga V's Whatchagot Loran"
Record: 87-27

In 2007, Uga VI became the winningest mascot in school history and owned a record of 87-27. The fall of 2008 would have been his 10th season after Uga VI reigned over more games than any other mascot with 114. He died on June 27, 2008. In his last game, the Bulldogs defeated Hawai'i 41-10 in the 2008 Sugar Bowl in New Orleans.

The pregame passing of the bone ceremony from Uga V to his heftier and friskier son, Whatchagot Loran, took place at the 1999 Georgia-South Carolina contest. Only a year old at his coronation, Uga VI stood as the biggest of all the Uga mascots weighing in at 65 pounds — 20 pounds heavier than his father.

His first season climaxed in a magnificent come from behind victory over Purdue at the Outback Bowl in Tampa. The 2000 season ended in Hawaii, but due to the distance and a quarantine rule, Uga VI missed the O'ahu Bowl, marking the first time the Georgia mascot had missed the postseason game since the 1969 Sun Bowl.

Alongside first-year head coach Mark Richt, Uga VI saw his third consecutive 8-4 season, which included a 26-24 win at then-No. 6 Tennessee for the Bulldogs' first win in Knoxville since 1980.

Uga VI and Georgia experienced their best run in two decades during the 2002-05 seasons. That stretch included 44 wins, a pair of SEC titles and appearances in the Sugar, Capital One and Outback Bowls.

In 2007, Uga VI passed Uga IV (77-24-4) for the most wins of any bulldog in school history.

Uga VII, 2008-2009
"Loran's Best"
Record: 16-7

The seventh in the Uga line of Georgia mascots was introduced to the Georgia people on Aug. 30, 2008, during pre-game ceremonies of the Bulldogs' season opener against Georgia Southern.

"Loran's Best" officially became "Uga VII," when he was introduced for the first time to the Sanford Stadium crowd prior to kickoff of the Georgia vs. Georgia Southern game. He was escorted onto the field by members of the Frank W. "Sonny" Seiler family of Savannah who have owned the continuous line of mascots since Uga I took up the mantle in 1956.

Uga VII passed away unexpectedly on Nov. 19 of heart-related causes. It was the Thursday before the final home game of the 2009 season and the Bulldogs did not have a live mascot at the game. Instead, a wreath was placed on UGA VII's doghouse, and the players wore a special UGA VII decal on their helmets to remember him. "Russ," the five-year-old haf brother of Uga VII, served as the Bulldog mascot for the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta and helped his squad to a 30-24 win. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

epitaph: Gone Too Soon

Uga VIII, 2010
"Big Bad Bruce"
Record: 4-2

Born Sept. 12, 2009 in Savannah, Ga., Uga VIII is the grandson of Uga VI. He carried on the tradition of more than 60 years of all-white bulldogs bred by Frank "Sonny" Seiler and family.

Uga VIII was named in honor of Dr. Bruce Hollett from the University's School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Hollett has been a longtime caregiver for the famed line of English bulldogs. UGA VIII served six games in the 2010 season before he became ill and missed the AutoZone Liberty Bowl. He passed away with lymphoma on February 4, 2011.

Uga IX, 2012-Present
(Russ, 2009-2012: 16-9)
Record: 44-19

UGA IX

"Uga IX, formerly "Russ," the half-brother of Uga VII, served as interim Bulldog mascot for a total of 25 games. He worked nine games during the 2009 and 2010 seasons after Uga VII and VIII passed away. He roamed the sidelines at all 14 games during the 2011 season. He then served for two wins at the beginning of the 2012 season before being promoted as Uga IX prior to the Florida Atlantic game on Sept. 15, 2012. His time as mascot included the 2011 and 2012 SEC Eastern Division championships, three road wins at Georgia Tech, a victory over Texas A&M in the 2009 Independence Bowl in Shreveport, La., and a win over Nebraska in the 2013 Capital One Bowl. He was the first substitute mascot since "Otto" in 1986.

Uga X, 2015-Present
"Que"
Record: 9-3

Uga IX officially retired as the Bulldogs' mascot at the end of the 2014 season. After a three-month "audition" in that role, his grandson "Que" was officially crowned as his successor in a collaring ceremony prior to the Georgia-Georgia Southern game on Nov. 21, 2015. Que assumed the title of Uga X at the age of 2 1/2 years. During his audition, he made appearances at the Countdown to Kickoff event in July 2015, as well as Picture Day in August, before presiding over the entirety of the 2015 football season.

The Arch

Serving as the official symbol of the UGA, the Arch was built in the 1850s and originally served as part of a larger iron fence that secured the campus. Daniel Redfearn (BL 1909, BS 1910) is credited with making the Arch the sacred symbol of UGA. Recognized as one of the school's finest icons, students today hold the Arch in high regard as its three pillars represent the virtues of wisdom, justice and moderation.

The Arch

The "G"

In 1963 after becoming the Bulldogs' Head Football Coach, Vince Dooley redesigned the football uniform choosing a red helmet with a black "G" on a white background as the dominate feature of the new uniform for the 1964 season.

He discussed with his staff that a forward-looking "G" would be an appropriate emblem for the helmet of the Georgia team. Dooley had just hired John Donaldson, former Georgia player from 1945 to 1948, as backfield coach. John was keen on the idea of a new image and volunteered his wife, Anne, who had a BFA in commercial art from UGA to design a logo for the new Georgia helmet with the general specifications Dooley had outlined. Dooley accepted Anne's original "G" which fit his vision for a forward look to Georgia's new emblem.

Since the Georgia "G" though different in design and color was similar to Green Bay's "G", Coach Dooley thought it best to clear the use of Georgia's new emblem with the NFL team. Athletic Director Joel Eaves called for permission which was granted. However, since its inception in 1961, the Green Bay "G" has been redesigned several times and now looks like Georgia's original 1964 "G." Georgia is proud that the Packers apparently liked the special nuances of the Bulldogs' forward-looking "G."

Georgia's oval "G", eventually replacing Georgia's old block "G" as the official UGA symbol, has stood the test of time. It made its first appearance in the opening game in 1964 and was an immediate hit with the Georgia fans, especially after Dooley's first three teams were so successful—highlighted by the 1966 SEC Championship.

Chapel Bell

"Silver Britches"

Silver Britches were an innovation of Coach Wally Butts, who took over as head coach in 1939. The handsome pants, complimented by a bright red jersey, made for a striking uniform. Through the years, fans referred to the Bulldogs' silver britches in their chants and on banners, but the phrase really caught on in the early fifties with a cheer, banners, and colorful vests that proclaimed "Go, You Silver Britches." Coach Vince Dooley re-designed the uniform when he came in 1964 and used white pants; however, he re-instituted the silver britches in 1980 just prior to what turned out to be Georgia's national championship season.

The Chapel Bell

The ringing of the chapel bell after a Georgia victory is a tradition that continues even though freshmen are no longer ordered to do the chore. In the 1890's, the playing field was located only yards from the Chapel and first-year students were compelled to ring the bell until midnight in celebration of a Bulldog victory. Today students, alumni, and townspeople still rush to the Chapel to ring the bell after a gridiron victory.

"Bulldogs"

"Between the Hedges"

"Lone Trumpeter"

"Silver Britches"

"Glory, Glory"

Among the University's oldest and most lasting traditions is the school fight song, "Glory, Glory" which is sung to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." It was sung at games as early as the 1890's, but arranged in its present form by Georgia's immortal musician-composer Hugh Hodgson in 1915. There have been many Bulldog songs through the years and at least two collections dating back to 1909 have been published, but none have enjoyed more acceptance than "Glory, Glory."

"How 'Bout Them Dogs"

This is a slogan of recent vintage, but one that has become a battle cry of Bulldog fans probably because of its obvious grammatical slur. It first surfaced during the mid to late 1970's especially during the 1978 season when the Bulldogs posted several remarkable, come-from-behind victories. It gained national attention and exposure when Georgia won the national championship in 1980. A major wire-service used the phrase in its story of Georgia's victory over Notre Dame and many newspapers picked it up in glaring headlines across the country proclaiming "How 'Bout Them Dogs!"

"Bulldogs"

Many oldtimers say Georgia acquired the nickname, "Bulldogs," because of the strong ties with Yale whose nickname is "Bulldogs." Georgia's first president, Abraham Baldwin, was a Yale man and the early buildings on campus were designed from blueprints of the same buildings at Yale. However, the first references to the nickname "Bulldogs" actually came in the 1910's (1911-20) by Atlanta newspaper writers covering both football and baseball games. Although used occasionally during the previous decade, the nickname began to be consistently used around 1920.

On Nov. 3, 1920, Morgan Blake of the Atlanta Journal wrote about school nicknames and said "The Georgia Bulldogs would sound good because there is a certain dignity about a bulldog, as well as ferocity." After a 0-0 tie with Virginia in Charlottesville on Nov. 6, 1920, Atlanta Constitution writer Cliff Wheatley used the name "Bulldogs" in his story five times. Gene Hinton also used the term "Bulldogs." The nickname seemed to be off and running.

"Between The Hedges"

A reference to Sanford Stadium that dates to the early 1930's. The famous Chinese privet hedges that surround Sanford's playing field were only one foot high when the stadium was dedicated in 1929 and were protected by a wooden fence. It was natural for a clever sports writer, referring to an upcoming home game, to observe "that the Bulldogs will have their opponent 'between the hedges." At least one old-timer says the phrase was first coined by the legendary Atlanta sportswriter Grantland Rice.

"Lone Trumpeter"

Seven minutes before kickoff in Sanford Stadium, the Bulldog Nation directs its attention to a lone trumpeter standing in the upper deck of the southwest corner of the stadium. The soloist is recognized and begins to play the first 14 notes of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The Battle Hymn solo was originally composed in 1987 as a student project by Jeff Simmons and became a part of the pre-game traditions in 2000. Each year, 25-30 members of the Redcoat Band audition for one of the 4-5 soloist positions.

Greg McGarity

J. Reid Parker
Director of Athletics

Athens native and University of Georgia graduate Greg McGarity was named Director of Athletics at UGA on August 13, 2010, after serving 18 years in the athletic department at the University of Florida.

Since that time, McGarity has injected a program of imagination and innovation into the Georgia Athletic Association with emphasis on exploring new ideas and initiatives designed to move the organization forward in all areas of competition, academics, and service.

Among the many initiatives are a nutrition program for all sports, greater emphasis on customer service as well as community service, scoreboard upgrades enhancing the in-game experience for guests and patrons in all sports, and development of leadership programs fostering staff development. In addition, he has encouraged the experimentation of new ideas such as moving volleyball competition to Stegeman Coliseum and helping bring a sold-out concert (Jason Aldean, 65,000) to Sanford Stadium for the first time in stadium history. He was also instrumental in development and implementation, along with Nike, of a new brand identity program which brings consistency in use of colors, logos, lettering and numerals to Georgia sports teams.

McGarity oversees a 21-sport athletics program supported by a budget of $99 million. Since he became Director of Athletics, UGA teams have won national championships in women's swimming and diving (2013-14) and equestrian (2014) and SEC championships in men's tennis (2011, '13, '14, and '15), women's tennis (2013), women's tennis SEC Tournament ('14), women's swimming and diving (2011, '12, '13, '14, and '15), men's tennis SEC Tournament (2012 and '13), and two SEC eastern division titles in football (2011 and 2012). During that time 18 different Georgia teams have been ranked in the nation's top 20 and 10 in the top ten. Georgia's standing in the Learfield Director's Cup, which annually measures athletic teams success in NCAA championships, has improved from 20th in 2011 to 10th in 2013 and is consistently in the top 20.

McGarity has also been a standard bearer for academic achievement. Since his arrival, Georgia student-athletes have been the recipients of eight NCAA Post Graduate Scholarships, 21 CoSIDA Academic All-American awards, three NCAA Top Ten honors, three SEC Boyd McWhorter SEC Scholar-Athletes of the Year, and two SEC Brad Davis Awards.

In addition, he has been at the forefront of facility expansion and renovation. Recently completed are a $12 million Foley Field (baseball) facility renovation, and new scoreboards/video boards at baseball, softball and soccer. New sound systems in Stegeman Coliseum and Sanford Stadium have also been installed to improve the fan experience, as well as improved rest rooms and concessions stands. In addition, a new Indoor Athletic Facility is scheduled to be constructed adjacent to the Butts-Mehre Building, which will provide a facility for all sports to use.

McGarity served on the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee from 2012-14. McGarity is also currently serving on the NCAA National Letter of Intent Football Recruiting Group, SEC Fan Experience Working Group, and the U.S. Tennis Association Athletic Director's Advisory Group.

McGarity was a letterman on the 1973 Bulldog tennis team and following graduation began his professional career at UGA. After serving as a student assistant from 1973-77, he held positions as assistant sports information director and head women's tennis coach (1977-81), administrative assistant (1982-88), and assistant athletic director for facilities and event management (1988-92).

McGarity is married to the former Sheryl Holland, who graduated from UGA in 1976 with a Bachelor of Science degree in education. They have one son, Alex, a graduate of the University of Florida and the University of Georgia.

Jere W. Morehead

UGA President

Jere W. Morehead became the University of Georgia's 22nd President on July 1, 2013. Prior to becoming President, he served UGA in many key administrative roles, including Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, Vice President for Instruction, and Associate Provost and Director of the Honors Program.

President Morehead is the Meigs Professor of Legal Studies in the Terry College of Business, where he has held a faculty appointment since 1986. He is a co-author of several books and book chapters, including The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business, and he has published scholarly articles on legal topics ranging from export controls to jury selection. He has served as editor-in-chief of the American Business Law Journal and previously held several other editorial board positions with the ABLJ.

President Morehead has received several university-wide teaching awards, including the Josiah Meigs Award—UGA's highest honor for teaching excellence—the Richard B. Russell Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Teacher of the Year Award in the Terry College of Business, and the Lothar Tresp Outstanding Honors Professor Award. He also received the Distinguished Service Scroll Award, the Law School Alumni Association's highest honor, and has been included in Georgia Trend's list of Most Influential Georgians for two consecutive years.

President Morehead is the first alumnus of UGA to be named President in more than forty-five years. He received his law degree (J.D.) from the University of Georgia in 1980 and served as an Assistant United States Attorney with the Department of Justice from 1980 to 1986.

Jere W. Morehead was named UGA's 22nd President on July 1, 2013.

A Quick Chat With . . . Jeb Blazevich

GeorgiaDogs.com
By John Frierson
Published on Oct. 20, 2015

Told that these questions would veer much more toward the fun and silly side than anything about Xs and Os or more serious matters, Georgia tight end Jeb Blazevich got into it right away.

The 6-foot-5, 248-pound sophomore tight end had fun with the Q&A that follows, though it's clear that he can get serious and get down to work when it's time to do so. On Monday evening Blazevich was one of 25 Georgia Bulldogs (from all sports) inducted into UGA's Student-Athlete Leadership Academy.

Blazevich, from Charlotte, N.C., made quite an impact on the field as a freshman, making the Freshman All-SEC Team after finishing with 18 receptions for 269 yards and two touchdowns. So far this season he has six catches for 62 yards and a touchdown.

During our quick chat last week Blazevich talked about (sort of) settling the Cold War, good shrimp, his golf game and much more. Here's some of what he had to say:

Frierson: What's the funniest thing you've ever seen or heard in a game or practice?

Blazevich: A lot of the smack talk's really funny. I like to have fun with it, so if somebody's yelling something back at me I usually try to keep my cool or just agree with them.

I think one of the funniest things was against (ULM). There was a player, we were huddled up, and he was staring us down and trying to intimidate us. And so me and John Theus just look over and start waving at him, and then he smiles and waves back, like "Hey!" He went from being all tough to a friendly guy. I got a kick out of that.

Frierson: If you could have played with or against anyone in history, who would it be?

Blazevich: Do they have to play football right now?

Frierson: No, it can be anybody ever. It doesn't even have to be football, if there's someone from another sport you'd love to play with or against.

Blazevich: Hmmm. I would say Ronald Reagan. I would want to play with Ronald Reagan against (Mikhail Gorbachev, former head of the Soviet Union), just because I feel like it's the right thing to do.

Frierson: (Mind pretty blown by that answer) Where the heck did that come from?

Blazevich: (Laughing) I'm a patriot. I don't know. I mean of all the questions, I'm like, let's get into this.

Frierson: I like it. You not only came from left field, you went over the fence and headed out past the stadium and into the parking lot.

Regrouping now, what do you do to get away from sports? In the quiet moments of your day, which may be few and far between, how do you spend your time?

Blazevich: I do as little as possible, that's always the goal. If I actually have a full day off, I love going to the lake or going to the river and just hanging out; hanging out in a hammock near water if it's warm enough. Just doing something simple and low-key with a small group.

Frierson: Do you remember the moment when you realized it was time to make a real commitment to the sport and began putting in the work that eventually got you to where you are today?

Blazevich: It was about halfway into winter (of my freshman year) and I was playing basketball at the same time. Coach Estes, my high school coach, he said, "I know you're playing basketball but you still need to get your lifts in." And I was like, this is going to stink, but oh well. I started doing it and I actually started getting stronger and I wasn't a scrawny little kid anymore.

That was the moment, once I started those little lifts. It was the simplest thing, but that was when I pretty much committed to football over everything else.

Frierson: Did you embrace the lifting or was it something you dreaded? I played a bunch of sports in high school, though not football, and I would always rather eat my vegetables or rake leaves for an hour than go lift weights.

Blazevich: I always loved lifting. Even in middle school I loved to lift. The only reason that was different is because we'd lift and then I'd have a game or practice afterward, so that was the time when I prioritized football over something else that was pretty important to me at the same time.

Frierson: Say it's the night after a game and you can pig out on anything, what are you ordering?

Blazevich: Is money involved?

Frierson: This is purely a hypothetical, so money is no object.

Blazevich: Uptown shrimp from FIVE Bar, no doubt. If it wasn't so expensive, I'd get like three orders of that and just kill it. Oh, it's so good.

Frierson: What makes it so special?

Blazevich: Have you ever had it? My girlfriend doesn't even like shrimp or seafood and she loves it. It's a game changer. Once you try it, you'll understand.

Frierson: Is there a part of the game day experience at Georgia that you connect with the most? Is there something that kind of gets you every time?

Blazevich: It's always before the game, because once the first play happens or you run in there for the first time, it's like, I have stuff to do.
It still gets me, walking into the stadium and through the Dawg Walk, seeing all the people. You're just like, wow, why are they all here? They're just here to get some entertainment but it's crazy to think about how much everybody's invested, to come down just for one day a week. It's a special time.

Frierson: If you could have played any other sport for the Bulldogs, what would it be?

Blazevich: Golf. I'm not very good, but sometimes during those hot practices you just think, if I could just be swinging a club right now. I would love to play golf. ... There's a lot of cool guys on the team, too. I'm definitely not good enough, and I wouldn't trade this for anything, but I also wouldn't mind if I could do both somehow.

Frierson: I would imagine that when you connect right, you probably hit the ball a long way.

Blazevich: I try to. I don't know, I've got a pretty bad slice with my driver.

Frierson: When you think back to your high school days, is there a moment that stands out as just one of those pure, blissful moments that you'll carry with you forever?

Blazevich: It was actually an away game. We went to this place, Franklin, N.C. (population around 4,000), which is sort of in the southwest side of the state, in the mountains. We show up and we're kind of from the city, we're not like city slickers or anything, but we show up and we end up winning the game.
But the cool part was, when we showed up the entire small town shut down. Everybody was there; all the police officers were there, the firemen, and it was the coolest atmosphere to play in front of. And then we end up winning and you get to be with your friends in such a cool spot. It was like, wow, what a blessing it is to play this game.

Houston Has Goals On And Off The Field

Athens Banner-Herald
By Loran Smith
Published on Sept. 17, 2015

ATHENS --- Kolton Houston's life has as many peaks and valleys as a mountain chain. He could have abandoned ship along the way, but here he is — among the peaks lately— with golden opportunity awaiting. Who knows? There may be an unforgettable moment in the gloaming.

There is unfinished business, the most important business in his life — his senior season of football between the hedges. He is already living a fulfilled dream, waiting in the wings for the forthcoming conference competition, enjoying every minute of his campus experience with a list of achievements on the record that turns heads. He has not one but two degrees: the first in financial planning and the second in consumer economics. He is half way to a Masters, which he will get to when his National Football League objective is consummated.

A conversation with this six-five, 290-pound tackle reveals that he has always been one to figure things out, take advantage of opportunity, and excel —the objective being to enjoy all experiences, from the classroom, to football, to the Great Outdoors. His approach to time management is extraordinary. Listening to him talk brought about a flashback to a circumstance involving Bulldog All-American Terry Hoage. Hoage broke his ankle skiing and hobbled down to the local airport in Aspen, Col., pointed to the boot on his foot, and asked a flight instructor if he could learn to fly while wearing the boot. The instructor said yes. Today Hoage is a licensed pilot.

Kolton was declared ineligible by the NCAA for 3 years due to a positive drug test for a performance-enhancing substance. "He received injections from a physician while in high school to rehabilitate a shoulder injury," says Ron Courson, Georgia Director of Sports Medicine. "Unfortunately, he was given nandrolone, an anabolic steroid and an NCAA-banned substance. The injected medication became trapped in his fat, was walled off, and would not leave his system. He ultimately had to undergo surgery to remove the fatty masses containing the entrapped medication to rid his body of the substance."

During this episode, instead of moping about, Kolton eschewed the "woe is me" crutch, applied due diligence in the classroom, and is perhaps the most educated football player in intercollegiate football.

There are other interests in his life: his girlfriend, Jaicee Brewton, golf, and airplanes. Jaicee's parents, Angie and Clay Brewton, are big acreage farmers in Screven, Georgia (Wayne County), which means that there is limitless opportunity to hunt, fish, and ride four wheelers. Kolton enjoys that activity to the fullest. He never met a golf course he didn't like, and when time allows he will, like Terry Hoage, become a pilot. He's about halfway home to earning his pilot's license in case you are interested.

His interest in airplanes originated with his maternal grandfather, O. J. Green, who flew fighter planes in Vietnam and later enjoyed a career as a Delta pilot. In high school, Kolton seriously considered enrolling at the Naval Academy to become a jet fighter. Before you think that a cockpit would not accommodate his lineman's frame, you might refer to the career of Chad Hennings who flew fighter planes after graduating from the Air Force Academy. Hennings played nine years for the Dallas Cowboys at six-six, 291 pounds. Kolton may not be destined to fly off into the Wild Blue Yonder, but he is likely to someday take his friends aloft "where it is so peaceful and beautiful."

Kolton got his football interest from his dad, Shane, who transferred from Western Illinois to play for the Bulldogs in 1985-86. "I've always been crazy about the Bulldogs and never seriously considered any other school," Kolton says. He has a photo, taken by his mother, Tiffany, on her cell phone of him standing at the gate underneath the bridge at the west end of the stadium with the Dawg Walk procession filing past pre-game when he was "about nine years old."

Kolton has always wanted to be like his dad, begging to play for the Duluth Wildcats when he was four years old. Officials wouldn't let him sign up until he was six. He can still remember the exultation he experienced with that signature moment in his life.

This man with a Renaissance bent has always established goals and then set about achieving them. He speaks as if he were a clairvoyant. "My ultimate dream is to start my own business and live at St. Simons Island," he says. If anybody has a friend in real estate in Glynn County, there is a potential client in waiting, one who wears No. 75 between the hedges of Sanford Stadium on Saturdays.

Jordan Jenkins Does A Little Bit Of Everything To Help UGA Win In Music City

Athens-Banner Herald

Published on Sept. 12, 2015

NASHVILLE, Tenn. --- If you saw Jordan Jenkins after his performance against Vanderbilt, you would've thought he just gave the musical performance of a lifetime.

His voice was raspy, his hands were shaking and he was losing feeling in the extremities of his body. But Jenkins didn't belt out the lyrics to an iconic song or give a face-melting guitar solo.

Jenkins played outside linebacker for Georgia and he mesmerized the many Georgia fans in Vanderbilt Stadium.

The senior, in his final Nashville appearance, racked up 11 tackles, 5.5 tackles for loss, 2.0 sacks, countless quarterback hurries and hits and spurred Georgia to a 31-14 victory.

Jenkins said he felt a different energy before the game. For whatever reason, whether it be the 2013 loss at Vanderbilt or him just finally reaching those Jarvis Jones comparisons that have followed him around since his freshman campaign, Jenkins was ready to go.

"I ain't never seen him act like that before," junior outside linebacker Leonard Floyd said. "He was on another level. He was on a different intensity for the entire pregame."

Jenkins said he got into some of the music Vanderbilt piped in during the game, with songs by Metallica and Soulja Boy. Before the game, Jenkins used heavy metal bands Disturbed and Slipknot to reach the right mood.

He said he knew he was going to have a special game when he ended Vanderbilt's first drive with a tackle for loss on third down. Then he ended Vanderbilt's first drive of the second quarter with a sack on third down.

Jenkins started his show strong but it was what he did at the end to seal the win for Georgia. After recovering a pooch-kick and a Georgia penalty, Vanderbilt had the ball on Georgia's 8-yard line and an opportunity to make it a one-score game.

Jenkins changed the tune of the game. He bull-rushed the right tackle straight into Vanderbilt quarterback Johnny McCrary. McCrary escaped the pocket and Jenkins peeled off to continue his pursuit. Jenkins chased McCrary to the sideline and McCrary desperately chucked the ball into a sea of defenders, with Jake Ganus coming away with the interception.

"Jordan was awesome," Ganus said. "He brought a lot of energy and made a lot of plays. There is a reason that C is on his chest."

The C Ganus referenced was a captain symbol on Jenkins uniform. Jenkins has been a captain for the Bulldogs first two games and according to head coach Mark Richt, he's probably going to be the front-man for Georgia next week.

It wasn't a perfect show for the Georgia outside linebacker group however. In the first quarter, Lorenzo Carter was ejected from the game due to a targeting penalty. Jenkins hated the call and defended his teammate, insinuating Carter would never deliberately hurt someone.

With Carter gone from the show, Jenkins knew he would have to pick up the slack. And for he, along with the other members of the self-titled Wolfpack — Floyd, Davin Bellamy and Chuks Amaechi — did just that.

"You're taking a kid away and he just wants to play football," Jenkins said."He's not going to sit there and go after his head. I really got amped up and other members of the wolfpack got amped up. It made us even more hungry."

With Carter gone, Jenkins did a little bit of everything, like a lead singer playing guitar and bass. He played on both edges and even played a little on the inside, something rare for him according to Richt.

"Jordan is pretty much an outside guy," Richt said. "We do put him inside to get him on a guard for some inside stuff. Jordan was very productive and we are just glad to see our seniors do that."

Georgia's Jake Ganus Packs A Lot Into A Short Time

Chattanooga Times Free Press

ATHENS --- First impressions may not be the strongest suit for Georgia senior inside linebacker Jake Ganus.

This time last year, Ganus was competing in Conference USA as a member of the UAB Blazers. When UAB folded its program in December and the Bulldogs had a need for inside linebackers with the impending departures of Amarlo Herrera and Ramik Wilson, Ganus found a one-year home in the Southeastern Conference.

"I remember hearing everything about Jake," Bulldogs senior outside linebacker Jordan Jenkins said this week with a smile. "Then I saw him in person, and I was like, 'Wait a minute. This is the guy who was leading UAB?'"

Senior defensive end Sterling Bailey remembers being equally underwhelmed, saying, "When he got here, everybody on defense was kind of hesitant. We were like, 'Oh, man, how is this going to work?'"

Generously listed at 6-foot-2, Ganus spent this past winter looking up at the likes of Jenkins and other more star-studded linebackers such as Lorenzo Carter and Leonard Floyd. Yet when the pads started popping at spring practice, whatever Ganus lacked in terms of being an imposing figure, he made up for in productivity.

"During the spring and offseason, he really proved himself in the way he got us lined up and got the plays to us," Bailey said. "He fit his role perfectly."

Ganus will play at Sanford Stadium for the seventh and final time Saturday night when the 7-3 Bulldogs host 7-2 Georgia Southern. He has packed a lot into his 11 months with the Bulldogs, leading the team with 74 tackles and getting engaged at midfield following a 52-20 win over South Carolina in September.

In last Saturday's 20-13 win at Auburn, Ganus tallied 11 tackles on a defense that limited the Tigers to 200 yards after their opening possession.

"He's embraced the Bulldog Nation, and he's embraced being here," coach Mark Richt said. "He wasn't afraid to be a leader. He didn't come in here acting like he owned the place, but when guys learn what to do quickly and practice hard and have the right kind of personality, everybody accepts them and appreciates them.

"He's just the right kind of person to be able to make that quick of a transition."

Saturday night's senior ceremony may be a little more unique than emotional for Ganus. A year ago, he was simply trying to help the Blazers attain bowl eligibility when news first surfaced about a potential termination of the program.

Ganus will be greeted by family members 20 minutes before kickoff having spent four fewer years with the Bulldogs than the remaining 2011 "Dream Team" signees such as receiver Malcolm Mitchell, tight end Jay Rome and former Ridgeland High cornerback Devin Bowman.

"We've all played a bunch of college football," Ganus said. "Obviously they've put more blood, sweat and tears into this program, and I've put more into the other program, but at the end of the day, we're all Dawgs. This year, we've all become a family, and we'll all be honored together."

Ganus likes the fact he can claim two schools down the road, with UAB scheduled to revive its program beginning with the 2017 season. His Georgia teammates like the fact they were wrong in their initial judgments.

"When I saw him running around this spring, I was like, 'OK, now I can see why,'" Jenkins said. "Jake just shows that there are good players in every conference. You just have to look past the conference title and conference name to see that."

Michel Is OK Being Marked Man

Atlanta Journal-Constitution
By Chip Towers
Published on Oct. 30, 2015

ATHENS --- Hearing that Sony Michel sat out of practice last week to heal from hip and groin injuries, the vision is that Georgia's starting tailback spent his days soaking in hot tubs and getting daily massages. That wasn't the reality, however. Instead, Michel found himself in the Bulldogs' training room under the intense supervision of a trainer. His days were spent moving from apparatus to apparatus and from exercise to exercise.

"Rehab kind of sucks," said the sophomore from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. "You've got to repeatedly do the same things (in rehab) over and over again.... It gets annoying. And just having to do it every day, that's kind of tough."

The good news is that mundane work got Michel's parts back in working order. And it's not like he was broken down as it was.

Since taking over as the Bulldogs' primary ball-carrier on the second play from scrimmage against Tennessee two games ago, Michel has found himself with the football in his hands 56 times. Forty-eight of those have come via hand-off or lateral toss, seven via the pass and one kickoff return.

The point is, with Nick Chubb sidelined with a season-ending knee injury, Michel is the main man in the Bulldogs' backfield for the foreseeable future. And he certainly will be for this Saturday's monumental matchup against Florida in Jacksonville.

It's a distinction with which Michel has grown increasingly comfortable.

"I won't say comfortable because everybody is replaceable," Michel said this week. "But I'm comfortable with playing that role as the starting running back. It is an opportunity. It's an opportunity for me to help the team go to the SEC Championship (game)."

The fact of the matter is, Michel is now the Bulldogs' greatest hope. The plan this season was to ride on the powerful backs of Chubb and a veteran offensive line, with assistance from Michel and the other tailbacks. But with Chubb now cast aside, Michel has proved to be the only real "home run threat" the Bulldogs have at the position. Keith Marshall has yet to show the explosiveness he displayed regularly before his knee injury two years ago. And Brendan Douglas is a dependable runner, but not long-distance threat.

Hence, Michel being the offensive designee on 39.9 percent of the Bulldogs' plays the past two games.

"It sounds like a lot, but after the game I was surprised (to find out) I had that many," Michel said of his 33 touches against Missouri, despite missing half the first quarter to stretch in the locker room. "During the game I don't even feel it."

But afterward, the aches and pains bubble up. And Michel is proving to be a pretty tough dude.

"The hip pointer is a pretty painful injury, but it's not anything wrong structurally," coach Mark Richt said of Michel. "It's more of a pain issue. He kind of fought through the game with it. ... With the time off, though, he looks good. ... I don't anticipate him having any issues."

At this point, Michel would just as soon stay out of the training room.

"I got a chance to rest up and get back on the practice field," he said. "I feel great."

It's a good thing, as the Bulldogs need to pick it up in the running game if they expect to have any success against Florida. The Gators are giving up only 116.6 yards rushing per game, and Georgia's rushing production has regressed in each of the past three outings, from 193 yards to 165 to 120. Meanwhile, the Bulldogs haven't scored a red-zone touchdown in the past three games.

"It's very big," guard Isaiah Wynn said of getting it going again. "We're known for running the ball, and we have some great running backs back there. We just have to focus in on technique."

A healthier and re-energized Michel feels like he can help the cause.

"It's about executing the plays the coaches call and executing them well," Michel said. "Holes are being made, but it's also about winning one-on-ones. I had three one-on-ones that I missed against Missouri. They also had a great defense, so you can't just expect to have great plays all the time. But it's about execution."

Nick Chubb's Heritage Explains His Success

Athens Banner-Herald
By Loran Smith
Published on July 3, 2015

CHUBBTOWN COMMUNITY, Ga. --- This tree-laden enclave, which snuggles right up to Cave Springs and has a unique and implausible history, is most notably linked today to Georgia's precocious running back Nick Chubb — known by his family as Nicholas.

He is named for one of eight brothers who settled here during the early days of the Civil War, a phenomenon as baffling as Nick's stutter step in football traffic when the Georgia offense is bent on a goalward path while opposing defenses render equal effort to hem him up.

Nobody knows why the Chubbs left their community on the Virginia–North Carolina line. Nobody knows why they settled here, and nobody can fathom how they would find their way four states south of the Mason-Dixon line during a time when the slinging of lead by Union and Confederate soldiers would soon be at peak.

"We don't know, we just don't," Henry Chubb, Nick's introspective dad, said recently as he and his friend Angie Pullano took a visitor on a tour of Chubbtown.

There were stops at the cemetery — where the original Chubbs, all eight of them (William, Henry, John, Thomas, Jacob, Isaac, Nicholas and George) and many of their descendants are buried — the little white church, Chubb Chapel, where Nick was an altar boy, and grounds where all-day dinners for church and other functions have been held over the years.

We crossed Big Cedar Creek where Nick learned to swim. More about Big Cedar Creek and Nick later.

The Chubbs arrived, it has been speculated, in about 1861, bought land and immersed themselves into the community, similar to what pioneers did in the first couple hundred years of our nation's existence. The Chubbs owned a cotton gin, gristmill, distillery, syrup mill and casket company, among other businesses.

They were farmers who were also tradesmen from blacksmiths to carpenters to masons to millers. They were self-sustainers who honored the work ethic, underscored honesty and integrity, and gave unto others — both friends and neighbors.

Those traits you see in Nick Chubb today. It is just as important to him to bring home an A on his report card as it is to pop past the line of scrimmage, leaving half the defense grasping a fist full of air as he goes the distance.

"You should see him cut and lay tile," his proud father smiles. "Nicholas (he never calls his son Nick) has always been a hard worker. He has never disappointed his family."

He doesn't drink, he displays no tattoos — not that there is anything wrong with that, it is just that he is so different from the stereotypical athlete of today.

Images of Herschel Walker kept flashing through my mind.

In a two-hour tour of Chubbtown, it was difficult to settle on a single focus. Learning what the Bulldog running back is like and what makes him what he is was countered by the urge to step back in history to the original Chubbs, who, in the beginning spelled their last name with one "b."

"The Chubbs," said Henry, "were never slaves."

They were free blacks who became self-sufficient in this Western corner of Floyd County, not far from the Alabama state line.

"There are nearly 30 Chubb listings in Floyd County and 20 or so in Polk County. All get their mail from Cave Springs," says Sharon Thomason, a realtor in Lumpkin County.

Sharon became fascinated by Chubbtown years ago when driving from her home in Alabama to visit relatives in Georgia.

"We always drove through Chubbtown," she said. "One day, I stopped at the cemetery and happily learned about its history. You can say I am thrilled to be a Nick Chubb fan."

The self-sufficiency of the Chubb clan can be seen in the makeup of Georgia's star running back, who often returns to family property in Chubbtown with his friends for cookouts with the proviso that you are welcome, but there will be no drinking.

Anyone who spends time with Nick immediately notes his quiet and reserved personality, that is always accompanied with a polite smile. He is genial with an intellectual bent and a welcoming demeanor, one who could talk for a week, without ever referring to himself. He loves animals and books. Reading has always been an avocation. Nick took his first vacation (to Panama City) in May.

Zachery, his brother, is two years older and a cornerback at the Air Force Academy. When they played together at Cedartown, each gained over 1,000 yards, Zachery an option quarterback.

"There is no rivalry between them," Henry said. "They were something to watch. My boys have a lot of good qualities. They are not on drugs, they are doing well in college — what a blessing."

Henry, who served his country in Desert Storm, was an athlete himself, playing at Darlington in Rome and Valdosta State. He got something in his eye during the war in the Middle East and the prescribed prednisone affected his hips, which caused him to take disability from the U.S. Air Force.

A knee injury caused Henry to give up football.

"I was never worried about getting hurt when I played, but I am always worried about Nick and Zachery. Nick runs the ball in a lot of heavy traffic and those are big boys he plays against."

Nick has one problem. Flat feet. He has had to wear special shoes since grade school, but that is, perhaps, a good thing when you recall that Georgia's first Heisman Trophy winner, Frank Sinkwich, had flat feet. Is there an omen in there somewhere?

As we drove by Big Cedar Creek where it is the fullest, I harked back to a conversation with Nick, trying to get a handle on any exercise or habit which made his feet so valuable to his running style. He kept saying no but wondered aloud if it was the days when he was a boy when he would go out to Chubbtown and cross Big Cedar Creek over a foot log.

Foot logs and flat feet. A's in the classroom and big-time yards gained on the football field. What would you expect from a man with Nick Chubb's heritage? One thing you can expect is a degree. It could come about before he leaves campus given his approach to scholarship. You can count on it, however. A diploma is as likely as Big Cedar Creek flowing downstream.

Bulldogs Have Their Thrills (And Some Scares) Before Getting Off Bus At Sanford Stadium

Athens-Banner Herald
By Marc Weiszer
Published on Sept. 23, 2015

ATHENS --- Before Georgia rolled over South Carolina last Saturday, the Bulldogs rocked the buses that brought them over to Sanford Stadium.

Back and forth. Swaying from side to side. Helping get the emotions sky high, but a little bit too close to the ground for some.

Until the players unload for the Dawg Walk, the buses are jumping.

"It's a crazy atmosphere," cornerback Malkom Parrish said. "Everybody's getting riled up for the game. We're just having fun while it lasts."

It might seem like a ride at a theme park. Cornerback Aaron Davis said the thrill has had him on edge before.

"Especially last year versus Auburn," he said of a November night game. "I thought for sure we were going down. Before the Dawg Walk, I was prepared for it to flip over and crawl through an emergency exit. I'm not going to lie. I do get a little scared of that."

The players ride to the stadium on standard 40-foot transit buses built for "heavy duty service," according to Ron Hamlin, transit manager for University of Georgia's Campus Transit.

"They're the ones we run every day," Hamlin said. "They are built for the weight; that's not a problem. There's a possibility that it could ruin the game day if the bus went too far. That's for sure."

He laughed a little, but then added: "There is a little concern about it. I know it's helping them get pumped up for the game, which is a good thing, but on the other side we'd hate to ruin the whole game day if something disastrous were to happen. …We don't want to push it too far to the limits."

The first two of the three buses the team uses were shaking Saturday, according to video.

Offensive tackle John Theus didn't sound too sympathetic for those that may feel a little too close for comfort: "The goal is to tip it over."

Senior offensive tackle Kolton Houston heard Theus say that: "I don't partake in that. I sort of sit back. I sit there."

Joked Theus: "We're going to have to kick him off the bus."

Houston, who is playing after getting a sixth year of eligibility, said the rocking of the buses has been going on ever since he's been on the team.

The lead bus now typically is a 2015 New Flyer, Hamlin said.

"I think the buses have new shock systems because it definitely goes (down) more than it used to," Houston said.

The buses, which also may include a model made by Orion, can seat 43, but of course that is for regular size students.

"On the inside of the bus are those (hand) rails, those have been broken off a few times," center Hunter Long said. "Not this season, but my first few years they got snapped off and stuff."

John Atkins, a 6-foot-4, 300-pound defensive tackle, says he's one of the main ones bouncing the bus and sounded ready to do it again before Saturday's home game against Southern.

"It's real fun," he said. "It gets you pumped. You're ready to go then."

Sanders Becomes A Standout For His Dad

Athens-Banner Herald
By Marc Weiszer
Published on Sept. 23, 2015

ATHENS --- Dominick Sanders, probably over and above everything else, is a tough guy. Among the Georgia Bulldogs, he is known as man of few words who gets things done and generally doesn't reveal a lot of himself publicly.

For whatever reason, that changed, and Sanders opened up Tuesday night. The sophomore defensive back was summoned to the atrium level of the Butts-Mehre football complex to answer questions like he does on this night pretty much every week. But rather than offering only clipped and cryptic answers as per usual, Sanders went deep.

Asked what was his motivation for playing football at such a high level, as he has done since joining the Bulldogs last year, Sanders said simply, "my father."

It was only after some prodding and cajoling that it could be determined that Sanders' father is no longer with us. Johnny Morris died of a drug overdose in the family home when Sanders was 6 years old.

But Sanders didn't reveal that fact right away.

"Man, I'd really have to say my father," he said. "I don't have my father in my life. Throughout the week, I just think about him. I just picture him watching me and that just gets my blood going. I just tell myself every game I'm going to execute and I'm going to do it for him."

The execution part has been going quite well for Sanders. After showing up at Georgia as a relative nondescript three-star prospect, he started every game as a freshman. He finished with 34 tackles, three interceptions, five pass break-ups and a half-sack.

As a sophomore, he has emerged as the leader of the secondary and basically defensive coordinator's Jeremy Pruitt's right-hand man on the field. He starts at free safety, makes all the backfield adjustments, is second in the SEC with two interceptions and has 121 return yards, including an 88-yard touchdown return against Vanderbilt.

But he revealed Tuesday, his mind is consumed with thoughts of his father.

"It's just wishing he could be here, you know, to see me play," Sanders said. "I also have a stepfather (Marlow Permenter) who's there for me right now. He's a wonderful stepfather. But I just think about my biological father not being there, and I just wish he could be there. So every moment I have, practicing and through the games, I'm always looking up, thinking of him."

As for the circumstances of his father's death, Sanders said only that "it was drug-related" and that his only real memory of it is getting off the bus and having his mom telling him that his dad died.

"After that, it just kind of had me thinking I'm going to have to step up and be a man in the household," Sanders said. "I have an older brother and we just set goals on working hard doing anything we could to feed my little sisters and my mother."

In high school, Sanders worked at a restaurant to help make ends meet. As for his brother, Georgia fans likely have heard of him.

Chris Sanders also signed with Georgia and played defensive back for the Bulldogs. But he was dismissed from the team after a theft incident that also resulted in the ouster of Nick Marshall and Sanford Seay.

The plan had always been for the two brothers to play together at UGA. But since Dominick arrived at Georgia last year, no one has been a more ardent supporter and consistent adviser than his big brother.

"He's another one that I think about," Sanders said of Chris. "Every Friday night we talk and he says that he sees himself in me. Play by play, he thinks of himself in my shoes...

"That's why I just try to keep my head straight. I think about it a lot. My mentality is just working hard, not quitting on nothing, executing. If I make a mistake, learn from it, come back and do it again."

Understandable, now that Sanders has opened up.

Ramsey Makes Most of New Role

Atlanta Journal-Constitution
By Seth Emerson
Published on Nov. 12, 2015

ATHENS -- Brice Ramsey got a message on Twitter last week from Drew Butler, former Georgia and current Arizona Cardinals punter. Any tips or pointers you need, Butler told him, don't hesitate to ask, and we can also meet up in the offseason.

Then Butler added something else: Get some kicking cleats.

Yes, Ramsey, who has punted so impressively the past two games for Georgia, is still doing so with "the same quarterback cleats I've been playing in the whole year," Ramsey said, laughing, and pointing at them in the locker room Saturday. And how much does that matter?

"I have no idea," he said, smiling. "No. I mean I really have no idea. I don't think it's affected me yet, so I'm gonna knock on wood and just keep on going with it." One of the great surprises in Georgia's season has been that Ramsey, the presumed heir-apparent quarterback, hasn't started a game under center. Perhaps the next biggest surprise is that he's instead become, of all things, the punter. And a very good one.

But ask Jeff Herron, who coached Ramsey at Camden County High School, if he figured four years ago he'd be talking about Ramsey's punting, he laughed and said: Yes. And not just punting.

"I honestly thought maybe you'd be talking to me about his kicking before his punting," Herron said. "Quite honestly, he was a better kicker than a punter. Tremendous kicker."

Ramsey's arm always has been regarded as the strongest at Georgia since Matthew Stafford. His foot received less notice, but as Herron said, it's not a surprise. Ramsey grew up playing soccer, and kicked and punted as a sophomore, junior and senior at Camden County. There were no qualms about using the quarterback to kick.

"It's like (ex-NFL coach) Bum Phillips liked to say: 'You got a big gun, shoot it,' " Herron said. "He was too talented to be standing over there while somebody else was kicking and punting."

Georgia has caught on to that, plugging in Ramsey at punter the past two games, despite not working him there the past three seasons and having a senior (Collin Barber) on scholarship to punt.

The team actually hopes Ramsey will be the punter next season, and it bears noting that kicker Marshall Morgan also is a senior, and the Bulldogs don't have a commitment from a kicker yet. The question will be whether Ramsey will still be around or will seek another place to play quarterback.

For now, Ramsey does appear legitimately excited about punting, saying that he's "excited about pursuing it." He could see himself doing so in the NFL.

"Oh, yeah. I don't have a problem doing that," Ramsey said. "They've got a pretty good little life for them going on."

Ramsey has averaged 44.7 yards on his nine punts this season. His longest was 53 yards, his shortest 36, with every other attempt at least 40 yards.

The one time he punted on the same drive he was at quarterback, against Kentucky, he booted a 42-yarder that was downed at the 11.

"There's no doubt he has a lot of God-given ability," Herron said. "He's a tremendous golfer. He can beat most anybody on campus in Ping-Pong. He's just that kind of kid. He's just a natural athlete in most anything he tries to do."

Coach Mark Richt said Ramsey has handled everything well, praising him for being a good teammate.

"(He) sees a future there for himself as far as continuing to punt for Georgia," Richt said. "I don't see any reason why he wouldn't continue to punt for us. And continue to battle at the quarterback position, and try to get better every time he gets snaps."

Ramsey said the same thing, and in fact after Saturday's game, when he played only two series at quarterback, he was all smiles in the locker room afterward, happy to talk about his punting.

But his former high school coach thinks quarterback is still very much on Ramsey's mind.

"Brice is a laid-back kid. He always has been," Herron said. "While he's saying the right things, and as a coach I'm sure they appreciate him saying the right things, I think deep down he still wants to be a quarterback. That's my opinion. What kid wouldn't want to?"

A final Homecoming Game For Theus Brothers In Jacksonville

The Red & Black
By Taylor Denman
Published on Oct. 26, 2015

ATHENS ----Memories of late wins, recent routes, bitter cold and St. Simons Beach — or the lack of memories, in regard to the latter — come to the minds of Georgia students at the mention of the rivalry game. A couple Georgia students think of something else at the mention of Jacksonville.

Home.

John and Nathan Theus are brothers, offensive linemen and Jacksonville natives. While the return to Florida is a neutral site for the teams, it's a homecoming for the Theus brothers.

"It's definitely a little more meaningful," John Theus said. "You drive over the bridge and see all of the people tailgating."

John Theus has started in all three Florida games over his career, making Saturday's potentially his fourth. It is interesting for him to play four games in the stadium he grew up seeing games as a fan.

John Theus said he had seen two Georgia-Florida games in EverBank Stadium, on top of the handful of Jaguars games he has attended. Nathan Theus said, however, said the Georgia-Florida game was not a Theus family outing.

John and Nathan Theus grew up in a household in which their father was a police officer and Nathan Theus said the rowdy atmosphere was not exactly something a cop would want to take his sons to experience.

"We just kind of avoided the big crowds," Nathan Theus said. "It was the World's Largest Cocktail Party so I don't think he wanted his sons to go."

Nathan Theus also said, up until he came to Georgia, he never had a stake in the game. Now he and his brother have "a dog in the fight," rather he and his brother are the dogs in the fight.

Both players said, leading up to the game, the fact that this is their last trip to Jacksonville as Bulldogs hasn't emotionally sunk in. Nathan Theus said it's possible when he and his brother step out onto the field, it may become real for them.

As for the other team that plays in EverBank Field, John Theus said, rooting for the Jaguars can lead to a hard knock life, but the team's digitally broadcasted game in London on Sunday provided some relief.

"It's tough to be a Jags fan right now, but I am loyal," John Theus said. "[Sunday's game] looked real good and then real bad but they got the win, which is what counts."

ATHENS ---- Greyson Lambert hadn't been in a groove like this before.

Not in high school. Not at Virginia. Lambert seemed confident and comfortable from the first snap he took, which went for a 6-yard completion to tight end Jeb Blazevich. From there it continued into a record-setting day he won't forget.

In No. 7 Georgia's 52-20 rout over South Carolina, Lambert wowed the Sanford Stadium crowd by going 24-of-25 for 330 yards and three touchdowns. After an incompletion on his fifth passing attempt in the first quarter, Lambert reeled off 20 consecutive completions against a South Carolina defense that never seemed to adjust to Georgia's passing attack.

Lambert's streak of 20 passes set a school record previously held by Mike Bobo (19). Following the game, head coach Mark Richt was told Lambert passed Bobo, Georgia's former offensive coordinator and now the head coach at Colorado State, in the record books before a smile broke out over his face.

"I'm glad he got Bobo's record," Richt said with a laugh. "That's awesome."

Lambert also set an NCAA record by completing 96 percent of his passes, which beat the previous best of 95.8 percent by Tee Martin (Tennessee) and Geno Smith (West Virginia).

Lambert said he was unaware he broke any records until the game was finished.

"I didn't until I took my pads off and saw the stat," Lambert said. "I didn't realize the records. I had no idea. I didn't expect any of that to happen."

Lambert put in this performance after a 0-of-7 start against Vanderbilt a week ago in which he took a ton of criticism following the game. Lambert looked like a different quarterback behind center on Saturday, hitting receiver after receiver throughout the game.

"Just to be as precise as he was, you need good protection, good route-running, you need good scheme," Richt said. "You need a lot of things to happen. But you physically have to put it on the money. There were very few balls that weren't right on the money."

On his lone incompletion, Lambert had a wide-open Malcolm Mitchell on a shallow crossing route with Georgia's quarterback admitting to getting "greedy" and wanting to try for the touchdown to Blazevich.

Coming off a down performance a week ago, freshman tight end Jackson Harris said Lambert didn't allow last week to affect his week of preparation.

"I don't really think Vanderbilt fazed him too much," Harris said. "He did a good job blocking out all the noise. It shows the type of worker he is. He was on to the next week."

Lambert made sure to get Mitchell the ball plenty as the playmaking wide receiver had eight catches for 122 yards and a touchdown.

Georgia running back Nick Chubb carried the ball 21 times for 159 yards and two touchdowns, giving him at least 100 yards for the 11th consecutive game.

The Georgia defense forced the Gamecocks into being a one-dimensional team on the ground. South Carolina only totaled 84 passing yards while using an option attack late in the first half to total a good bit of its 174 rushing yards as a team.

"They totally dominated us tonight," South Carolina head coach Steve Spurrier said. "Their offense was very good. We weren't very good on defense or on offense really. We didn't throw the ball very well, we didn't run the ball very well. We got clobbered."

The Bulldogs (3-0, 2-0) were the first to score on a 30-yard field goal from kicker Marshall Morgan in the first quarter. With Georgia and South Carolina (1-2, 0-2) tied up after the opening period, the Bulldogs scored 14 unanswered points on touchdowns from Nick Chubb – a 2-yard run – and Sony Michel – a 21-yard run – in the second quarter.

The floodgates opened early in the second half after Georgia held a 24-13 lead. The Bulldogs scored 21 points in a row thanks to two receiving touchdowns from Michel, both from 11 yards out, and a 7-yard rushing touchdown from Chubb.

Lambert's career has been rocky to say the least. It didn't pan out the way he thought it would at Virginia, where he played in 16 games but lost the starting job this past spring. After last week, questions emerged as to whether he should be the guy to lead Georgia for the remainder of the season.

Then Saturday happened. Lambert was nearly perfect and said it was the most comfortable he's ever been playing the position.

"Everybody did their role and we were able to get great execution as a team," Lambert said.

Leonard Floyd Makes Impact At Inside Linebacker

The Atlanta Journal-Constitution
By Andy Johnston

ATHENS ---- Leonard Floyd has been silent this summer, declining interview requests.

That hadn't kept him from making plenty of headlines.

Fans worried when he had an MRI on his surgically repaired shoulder in early August, but it was deemed OK.

Floyd then began practicing at inside linebacker, adding to his growing list of positions, his versatility and importance to Georgia's defense.

And later in August, teammate Davin Bellamy called him "the LeBron James of defense."

All without a peep from Floyd.

He made his presence felt in Georgia's season-opening, weather-shortened 51-14 victory over Louisiana-Monroe with eight tackles, 1.5 tackles for loss, one pass breakup and one-half sack.

Floyd started at inside linebacker for the first time and played for the first time since the loss to Georgia Tech last November — a shoulder injury kept him out of the Belk Bowl — but it was tough to tell.

He made Georgia's first two tackles of the game, the second for a 1-yard loss.

"That felt good," Floyd said. "It felt like a dream actually because the hole opened up so big. I just went into the hole and made the tackle. It was just that easy."

Floyd's philosophy at inside linebacker is to "outrun" everybody.

It certainly looked that way early as he was pursuing Warhawks from sideline to sideline and finished the first quarter with four tackles.

"He was Leonard Floyd being Leonard Floyd," fellow linebacker Jordan Jenkins said. "That's what he was doing."

Floyd almost had his first sack with less than a minute left in the second, but Louisiana-Monroe quarterback Garrett Smith backpedaled at the last second and completed his pass.

One play, later, Floyd and Quincy Mauger blew

Having Floyd inside instead of outside is just fine with his teammates.

"I definitely know he's back there," defensive tackle Chris Mayes said. "He's communicating with me and giving me calls and stuff. We still have that bond."

As for being compared to LeBron James? That's just fine with Floyd.

"It's cool," he said. "LeBron ain't really a winner like I want him to be. It's cool though. You could say that. I do play a lot of positions."

McKenzie Shines on Special Teams in Win Over Auburn

The Red and Black
By Justin Hubbard

ATHENS --- Isaiah McKenzie has been labeled the "human joystick" in the past, and in Georgia's 20-13 win Saturday at Auburn, McKenzie showed off the flash that earned him that moniker.

McKenzie broke a 53-yard punt return for a touchdown with just over nine minutes left in the fourth quarter. The sophomore gave the Bulldogs their first lead of the game, one in which they struggled to generate points early on. He also helped tie it up earlier with a 4-yard touchdown run.

Sophomore left tackle Isaiah Wynn said he and his comrades on the offensive line knew McKenzie was going to score before he even fielded the punt from junior Kevin Phillips.

"Any time he's back there, we always know that something's going to happen," Wynn said. "Specifically on that play, I remember the whole offensive line, we all were like, he's going to take this one back, and sure enough, that's what he did. It was a big day for him."

The score gave McKenzie five career returns for touchdowns, tying the program record set by Brandon Boykin. But it almost didn't happen.

Freshman Terry Godwin fielded Georgia's earlier punt returns.

Head coach Mark Richt said he decided to start Godwin in that role because McKenzie had made bad decisions during punt returns in practice.

Godwin failed to alert his teammates about a short punt in the early part of the game. The coaches reiterated his responsibilities in those situations when he returned to the sideline and let him field the next punt. The same thing happened.

"The second time he didn't do it, we put Isaiah in," Richt said. "That might have been a good thing."

McKenzie credited his teammates for helping him score on the return.

"Malkom Parrish had a great block on the left side, and the two other blocks were good, too, to get me in the end zone," he said.

The punt return was a big play for the Bulldogs, but it highlighted something even bigger — an overall good performance by Georgia's special teams.

Senior kicker Marshall Morgan was 12-of-17 kicking field goals this season, prior to Saturday. Morgan was 2-for-2 against the Tigers.

He said he regained some of the confidence he'd lost this season when he converted on the first attempt, which was from 40 yards out.

"Once I got that first field goal knocked in, I started feeling good and got my confidence back up," Morgan said.

Georgia's punting game became especially important when the offense strung along non-scoring drives. Brice Ramsey, a redshirt sophomore, again handled most of the punting duties.

Ramsey punted three times averaging 46 yards per punt, but he also notched a 48-yarder and forced the Tigers to start inside their own 20-yard line once.

Arguably the most significant punt came with just 2:56 left in the game. Senior outside linebacker Jordan Jenkins forced a fumble at the Bulldogs' 1-yard line, which Georgia recovered. The Bulldogs were unable to move the ball past their 5-yard line, so Ramsey was brought in to punt out of the end zone. He booted it to Auburn's 43-yard line.

Richt said he was impressed with Ramsey, who had only played at quarterback for Georgia prior to this season. He was particularly pleased with how he reacted to that potentially dangerous situation.

"Most of the time, it's in camp that you practice that — kicking from out of the end zone — and I'm not sure Brice had a rep at that until today," Richt said.

Collin Barber recorded two punts of his own for 65 yards. Both of the senior's kicks pinned Auburn inside its own 20-yard line.

Georgia's strong special teams performance culminated in a clean onside kick recovery late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers cut the Bulldogs' advantage to just seven points on a 38-yard field goal by sophomore kicker Daniel Carlson with just 1:14 left in the game. Auburn attempted to recover an onside kick, but senior Malcolm Mitchell fell on it.

"The players were saying if Malcolm wanted to, he probably could've scooped it and scored, but that's not his job to do that at that point," Richt said. "His job is to get on it and secure it and let us take a knee."

And that's exactly what Georgia did. The Bulldogs' offense struggled to score but, for the first time in a long time, the special teams were able to back it up and, ultimately, lead Georgia to victory.

"Special teams is important," McKenzie said. "I would say, with special teams, it's either a miss or a hit, and today we got a hit."

How Gales Hit Has Affected Marshall Morgan

The Atlanta Journal-Constitution
By Seth Emerson
Published on Nov. 12, 2015

ATHENS — Marshall Morgan shook his head, gave a one-word answer – "No" – and looked down to make clear there would not be a second word. It was not something he wanted to talk about. It was not a question that was easily asked.

On Sept. 26 Morgan, Georgia's senior kicker, was covering a kickoff when he collided with Southern player Devon Gales. Four days later Gales' family, at a press conference, asked the public to pray for Morgan, as well as their own son, who had suffered a spinal injury and was unable to walk, at least for now.

The Bulldogs wear a No. 33 sticker on their helmets in honor of injured Southern player Devon Gales.

Field goal kicking can be such a mental task, so it's hard not to wonder about a connection between that event and Morgan's kicking this season. A first-team All-SEC kicker two years ago and honorable mention last year, he hasn't been as good this year, and has missed several chip-shot field goals.

Nobody blames Morgan for the play, especially Gales and his family. Morgan visited the hospital a couple days later, and met with Gales' parents. Morgan gave Gales' mom a hug, and talked hunting with his father.

"They were real nice people," Morgan said. "They wanted to make sure they told me it wasn't my fault. It's football, it happens. It's tragic."

Marshall Morgan has missed five field goals this season, as many as he missed all of last season.

Morgan, who had made several big open-field tackles before the Southern game, has been credited with only one solo tackle since then. But that could just be a result of circumstance. Morgan said he hasn't let it affect how he plays.

"I won't just go hit someone to hit someone. But if the guy's got the ball coming at me, I'm not gonna let him get past me," Morgan said. "At least I'm gonna try not to let him get past me."

As for the field goal kicking, there's enough evidence – statistical and anecdotal – to believe Morgan.

It's not just that Morgan has missed five field goals this season, as many as he missed all of last season, after missing just seven over the previous two seasons. It's the type of field goals Morgan has missed: A 38-yarder last Saturday against Kentucky, a 26-yarder two games before against Missouri, a 41-yarder at Tennessee.

But other than the length of the misses, there's not a noticeable difference before and after the Southern game. Through the Southern game, Morgan was 5-for-8 on the season, the misses coming from 37, 40 and 43 yards. Since then he's 8-for-11.

"He just hasn't been quite as consistent as I've seen him (in past years)," coach Mark Richt said. "But it hasn't been a horrible year by any stretch. We just hope he finishes strong and those percentages go up."

Morgan doesn't have an explanation for the short misses this year. There's nothing mechanically or mental, as far as he can tell.

"I couldn't tell you my stats from this whole year. I just know this last game I was 2-for-3," he said. "After three or four games you kinda forget that and make sure you go 100 percent all of the time."

There's a fun-loving part of Morgan that makes it easy to believe he doesn't dwell on bad things. He's always been the player most likely to smile and say hello to reporters at practice. He joked that anytime he misses a field goal he avoids Twitter, "because you'll get roasted."

Life is good for him off the field as well. His parents moved from south Florida to Athens the summer of 2014. Madison Giddens, who Morgan has dated since they met as freshman at Georgia, was recently crowned Miss UGA.

"So, how does it feel to be dating one of the hottest girls at UGA?" Georgia defensive lineman Sterling Bailey asked Morgan this week, interrupting a media session.

"They already asked," Morgan said to Bailey, laughing.

None of this is to say that Morgan doesn't think about Gales, and what happened. He remembered it was Gales' birthday this week, saying he planned to tweet him. Morgan is just obeying what he's been told by everyone from friends to Gales' parents: Don't let it affect you.

"I feel terrible for the guy," Morgan said. "Everyone's pulling for him, just to see progress of him slowly doing better. Everybody's praying for him. We still rock that 33 for him. I just hope he keeps getting well."

Godwin Shows Promise at Receiver for Georgia

Chattanooga Times-Free Press
By David Paschall

ATHENS — Georgia may have a receiving option 1A for the rest of the season.

True freshman Terry Godwin had a season-high six catches for a season-high 78 yards last Saturday night in the Bulldogs' 9-6 topping of Missouri. Godwin does not yet possess the experience and reliability of fifth-year senior Malcolm Mitchell, but quarterback Greyson Lambert likes the touted newcomer more and more each week.

"He's had a lot of great catches for us and has broken some tackles to get first downs," Lambert said. "We've seen stuff in practice that you guys haven't seen, and that stuff is coming."

The Bulldogs (5-2, 3-2 Southeastern Conference) are off Saturday before traveling to Jacksonville next week to face Florida (6-1, 4-1).

A 5-foot-11, 174-pounder from Hogansville, Ga., Godwin was a five-star prospect this past winter and Rivals.com's No. 1 athlete prospect nationally. He caught Lambert's first pass of the season in the opening 51-14 win over Louisiana-Monroe and has been solid most Saturdays, though not spectacular.

Godwin is second on the team with 17 catches for 203 yards (11.9 yards per reception), and he displayed more versatility last weekend by also returning three punts for 49 yards (16.3 per return).

"Whatever the coaches have in mind for me, I'm going to go with it," Godwin said. "I think I've improved a lot since the start of the season in my route running, my ability to get open and my connection with Greyson."

The Bulldogs entered this season thin at receiver following the departures of Michael Bennett, Chris Conley and Jonathon Rumph. Godwin has benefited from that, starting four of the past five games, but Bulldogs coach Mark Richt believes nothing has been handed to the freshman.

"Terry, being a young guy, has made some mistakes," Richt said. "There have been a couple of big ones that have hurt us here and there, but that's part of being a freshman, and he's not the only guy who's made mistakes. The more he plays, the less mistakes he makes and the more you see his talent begin to shine.

"He's a very talented guy. He's starting for Georgia for a reason and has earned that right, but it takes young guys a while to get used to how crucial every play is and how important every assignment is. He's learned from a few things here and there and is better for it."

Marshall Brothers Put Rivalry Aside for Thanksgiving

ATHENS -- For one day, Bulldogs and Yellow Jackets will get along.

Leave it to the Marshall brothers -- Georgia's Keith Marshall and Georgia Tech's Marcus Marshall -- to make this happen on Thanksgiving Day.

Keith, a Georgia senior playing in his final regular-season game, and Marcus, a Georgia Tech freshman playing his in the final game of his first season, will have Thanksgiving dinner hosted by an aunt who lives in Atlanta.

Joining Keith will be a few Georgia teammates who need a place to spend Thanksgiving. With Marcus will be a few of his Georgia Tech teammates. As the Marshalls, and their respective teammates, gear up for both teams' biggest rivalry game on Saturday, these selected players are putting aside their allegiances in the spirit of the holiday.

"I think a couple of his teammates are going to be there, and I'm bringing a couple of mine who didn't have anywhere to go," Marcus said. "It's really interesting. Hopefully there won't be too much smack talk."

The Marshall family, outside of Keith and Marcus, will be neutral for Saturday's 108th meeting between Georgia and Georgia Tech. Marcus said Denise Marshall, Keith and Marcus' mother, had shirts made that read "house united instead of divided." Denise also had a split jersey made that will be half of Keith's No. 4 and half of Marcus' No. 34.

While Keith is OK with the gesture, he doesn't want to see his mother wearing gold and blue in the Georgia section.

"I told my mom she can't wear that in our stands," Keith said smiling. "I guess she'll have to sit over there. We got a rule: you can't wear anything with the other team on it."

Keith has long been a role model for Marcus, who said Keith and other family members living in the Atlanta area factored into his decision to choose Georgia Tech. But while Keith was ranked as high as a five-star prospect, Marcus wasn't as highly coveted, despite the fact he broke Keith's single-season school rushing record with 2,198 yards and 31 touchdowns at Millbrook in Raleigh, North Carolina.

While the Yellow Jackets are 3-8 this season, Marcus' freshman season has gotten off to a good start.

Marcus leads Georgia Tech in rushing with 77 carries for 609 yards and four touchdowns. He credited his older brother for his early success.

"Throughout high school, I would talk to him to stay confident at competing at the highest level," Marcus said. "He was always real supportive. It helped me with my confidence."

Ever since Marcus enrolled at Georgia Tech, the two brothers have been able to visit each other frequently, which included Keith taking Marcus on visits to a local lake. Keith has gotten to know some of the Yellow Jackets players and Marcus has become friends with some of the Bulldogs.

Georgia sophomore running back Sony Michel has been among those to meet Marcus, calling him a "pretty good guy."

"I know it is going to be a great battle between them two," Michel said. "(Keith's) brother is pretty good. He's been having some success over there at Georgia Tech. But he's going to have to face a good defense and it's going to be rough for him."

After Georgia Tech returned to Atlanta after last week's loss to Miami, Marcus drove up to Athens to hang out with Keith after Georgia's 23-17 overtime win against Georgia Southern. The two ordered pizza and caught up on their lives outside of football.

Marcus saw Keith go through the pain of rehabbing a torn ACL sustained in 2013, which cost him the majority of the 2014 season. By the time Marshall was recovered, it resulted in Keith moving down to third string on Georgia's depth chart.

Last week, head coach Mark Richt announced Keith would bypass a potential fifth year and take his chances in the NFL draft. Marcus believes Keith has what it takes to make it at the next level and supports his decision.

"I feel like my brother is one of the best in the country," Marcus said. "If he hadn't been injured, he'd already be in the league."

Keith and Marcus, and a few of their teammates, will enjoy each other's company for a Thanksgiving feast. Two days later, they'll be on opposite sides on teams that don't like each other too much.

It will be the only time the Marshall brothers are able to play each other in a college football game. Therefore, bragging rights are on the line. But when it comes to his younger brother's future, Keith will support him, despite the fact Marcus plays for the team he hates the most.

"I was really just happy he was getting the opportunity to live out his dream," Keith said. "He made that decision and I supported him 100 percent -- even though it's Tech."
